Municipal Council Unanimously Votes to Increase Local Water Rates 30 Per Cent. on June 1

NEW ORDINANCE IS ACCEPTED

Minimum Consumption Remains at Old Figure of 5000 Cubic Feet

Long Threatened Act Tends to Make Department Self-Sustaining

Following several weeks' discussion and evolving from the pressing needs of the water department for greater revenue if it is to be a self-sustaining enterprise in fact as well as theory, the municipal council at its regular weekly meeting this morning unanimously voted to increase local water rates 30 per cent, effective June 1.

An ordinance to this effect, repealing the present ordinance establishing water rates, was read twice and passed to be ordained. It will become an accepted part of the city's ordinances 10 days hence.

The new rates provide that all metered service shall be at the rate of 21 cents per 100 cubic feet of water. Persons using less than 500 cubic feet in any one year will be charged a minimum rate of $10.50 per year. Those using more than 5000 cubic feet will be charged for excess at the rate of 21 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Those water takers who have no meter in their buildings will be charged a minimum rate of $12 per year. This will entitle them to the use of two fixtures. If they have more than two fixtures in the building, $1 will be charged for each sink, $5 for each water closet and $4 for each bath tub.

A discount of five per cent. will be allowed on bills paid within 30 days after their presentation.

There was no direct opposition to the passage of the ordinance, although Commissioner George E. Marchand inquired if a further saving could not be effected by eliminating the discount. It was pointed out that the cost of collecting bills if discount were not given would probably equal what the

LOWELL TEXTILE WAGES

Treasurers Meet in Boston Today—Belief That 15 Per Cent Offer Will Be Made

That local mill operatives will be granted a 15 per cent increase in wages, is the opinion of a local mill agent, who stated this morning that although the settling of wage matters lies with the treasurers of the textile mills, he believes the latter will follow the footsteps of the Fall River treasurers, who yesterday, in reply to the demand of the United Textile Workers of America for a 17 1/2 per cent increase offered a 15 per cent increase.

Treasurers of the local cotton mills met in Boston today, and it is believed the meeting was for the purpose of discussing the wage question as it pertains to local mills, but the result of the meeting could not be learned. It will be remembered that last December when the Fall River textile operatives went out on strike after being refused an increase in wages of 35 per cent they were recalled the following day by the mill officials and a compromise was effected by which a 15 per cent increase was granted. Later the treasurers of the Lowell cotton mills announced a voluntary increase of 15 per cent for all operatives employed in local mills and the increase was accepted.

A few days ago the international body of the United Textile Workers of America sent out a demand to the president of the New England Cotton Manufacturers' association for an increase in wages of 17 1/2 per cent to become effective June 1 in all the cotton mills of New England, and the latter referred the demand to the treasurers of the various mills. Yesterday the Fall River mills offered an increase of 15 per cent, and the matter of accepting or rejecting the offer will be taken up later by the various textile organizations of that city.

An agent of one of the local mills stated this morning that the wage question in the cotton mills of Lowell is always handled by the treasurers, and although he has not been informed as to what action will be taken, he believes within a few days an offer of 15 per cent. will be made in Lowell. "In my opinion," he said, "Fall River will again be used as a test and if the offer of 15 per cent. is accepted there, then a general increase of 15 per cent. will be granted in all the cotton mills of New England and it may be that the woolen mills will also fall in line."

FOUNDRY LABORERS STILL ON STRIKE

The 30 or 60 laborers employed at the Saco-Lowell shops foundry, who went out on strike last Thursday after being refused an increase in wages of 10 cents an hour, are still out and it was stated at the office of the company this morning that the places of the strikers were being filled gradually.

Salvation Army Launches Its Campaign for $20,000 in Lowell

Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night With $1588 Reported Already Subscribed

The Salvation Army drive for $20,000 in Lowell officially opened last night at a rousing meeting at the Community club in Dutton street at which informal reports showed that $1588 has already come in, with practically no organized solicitation under way. Of this amount, Edward Ramsay, chairman of the special gifts committee, announced a total of $1000, including the following:

Dudley L. Pace	$100.00
G. S. Motley	100.00
Mary G. Morrison	100.00
Friend	100.00
Friend	100.00

Reports showed that team organizations are ready for the drive and this minute are spreading their canvassing drag net over the city, appealing to every man and woman of Lowell to substantially recognize the type and wide scope of Christianity being preached by this sacrificial organization.

Col. W. H. Jenkins of New York, the principal speaker at last night's meeting.

FLETCHER CASE RESUMED

Superior Court Jury Hears Testimony Regarding Fatal Accident on Ayer Road

The case of Edwin L. Fletcher of this city, who, as administrator, is suing the Boston and Maine railroad for a total of $31,000 damages as a result of an auto accident at a grade crossing on the state road between Littleton and Ayer on October 21, 1917, was resumed before Judge Fosdick and a jury in the superior court here this morning.

Charles F. Watts, secretary of the Littleton board of trade, was the first witness. He identified, at the request of Attorney Charles H. Donahue of Boston, counsel for the plaintiff, several letters received previous to the accident from the superintendent of the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine relative to conditions at the crossing where the deaths occurred. The letters were in answer to complaints from Mr. Watts regarding conditions at the crossing. In one of the replies, the superintendent stated that he understood arrangements had been made to install a form of "automatic flagman" that had

Daniels Accuses Sims and British Admiralty of Delaying Establishment of North Sea Mine Barrage

WAR ORDERS TO ATLANTIC FLEET

Wilson's Hitherto Unpublished Instructions to Navy Made Public by Daniels

Said "Throw Tradition to Wind and Strike Word Prudent From Vocabularies"

"Do the Thing That is Audacious to the Utmost Point of Risk and Daring"

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson's hitherto unpublished war instructions to the officers of the Atlantic fleet, given in person on the quarterdeck of the flagship Pennsylvania on Aug. 11, 1917, and bidding them "throw tradition to the wind," "strike the word prudent from their vocabularies" and "do the thing that is audacious to the utmost point of risk and daring" were made public today by Secretary Daniels.

The president spoke as commander-in-chief of the navy at a time when the German submarine menace was menacing. In laying the text of his remarks before the senate naval investigating committee, Secretary Daniels said they showed "the bold and vigorous" policy the president had outlined for the navy.

"Do not stop to think what is prudent for a moment," the president said. "You will win by the audacity method when you cannot win by circumspection and prudence."

"I think that there are willing ears to hear this in the American navy and the American army, because that is the kind of folks we are."

"There will have to come a new tradition into a service which does not do new and audacious and successful things."

The president also expressed his dissatisfaction with progress then being made toward crushing the submarine campaign.

"We are hunting hornets all over the farm and letting the nest alone," he said. "I am willing, for my part, and I know that you are willing, because I know the stuff you are made of—I am willing to sacrifice half the navy—Great Britain and we together have to crush that nest because if we crush it the war is won."

The British admiralty had met American suggestions with what amounted to statements that "it never had been done," the president said, adding:

"And I felt like saying, 'Well, nothing.'"

WAVES OF MUSIC BY WIRELESS

Lowell Radio Men Pick Up Concert at Powerful Station in N. J.

Apparatus of John McMaster, 18 Fairfield Street, Reaches Out Into Night

The officers of the Lowell Radio club were visitors last evening at the wireless station of John McMaster, 18 Fairfield street and enjoyed a wireless telephone concert from the Western Electric company's experimental wireless station at Elberon, New Jersey, which is probably the most powerful station of its kind at present in operation.

Sharply at 10 o'clock the music was started, being played by a phonograph. Each selection was properly introduced, similar to the introductions at the local wireless telephone concert last month, by the man operating the set who used this phrase just before starting the music, "Ladies and gentlemen, balance your partners."

At the end of the concert which lasted over an hour, all who heard it were asked to send a detailed report to the Western Electric Co. that data may be collected from all sections of the country.

Mr. McMaster, at whose station the music was heard, is a student at Lowell high school. Immediately after the war ended he "got busy" and started working on his set. Nearly all his instruments are home made and now he has one of the most efficient receiving sets in the city. He does his studying in the afternoon and in the evening if anyone calls "H.L.Z." through the air they are sure to get an answer.

For the benefit of the other wireless operators in the city it was announced last evening that similar experiments would be carried on from "2XJ," which is the official government designation of the Elberon, N. J. station, at 9 o'clock, eastern time (10 o'clock here) every evening this week on a wavelength of 400 meters. The Lowell Radio club requests all wireless stations in the city to refrain from transmitting later than 10 o'clock as it might interfere with the stations receiving the wireless telephone.

DANIELS MAKES COUNTER CHARGE

Establishment of Mine Barrage Delayed by Sims and British Admiralty

Plan, the Most Effective Measure to Check U-Boats Was Wholly American Idea

Declares Sims Tried to Rob Navy of Credit and Give it to British

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A counter charge that establishment of the North sea mine barrage was delayed six months because of the opposition of Rear Admiral Sims and the British admiralty, was made before the senate naval investigating committee today by Secretary Daniels in presenting the second part of his reply to the officers' charges that the navy department had unnecessarily prolonged the war through failure to co-operate fully at first with allied naval forces. The barrage, Mr. Daniels added, was the most effective measure that had been taken to check the submarines and was wholly an American idea.

The secretary also charged that Sims had attempted in his testimony to rob the navy of credit for this project and to give it to the British.

The plan was conceived, he said, in the bureau of ordinance at the navy department and urged on the British admiralty for six months before it was accepted. During this time, Admiral Sims constantly discouraged and opposed the idea. He added, and when Admiral Mayo was sent abroad and finally convinced the admiralty of the worth of the scheme and the necessity for adopting it, Admiral Sims attempted to convey the impression that the project had been delayed while the British attempted to get the American navy department's approval.

ASQUITH HOME RULE AMENDMENT BEATEN

LONDON, May 11.—An amendment to the Irish home rule bill offered by ex-Premier Asquith, providing one parliament instead of two for Ireland, was defeated in the house of commons this evening, after a short debate, by a vote of 250 to 55.

Mr. Asquith's amendment included county option for a period limited to six years, as proposed in 1914.

(LONDON, May 11. (Canadian Press)—Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster unionist leader, writing yesterday in the Morning Post regarding anti-British activities in the United States, said:

"I have had hundreds of letters from America complaining of the folly of the British government in making no effort to counteract anti-British propaganda carried on there on a large and systematic scale. New York is the headquarters of this propaganda, which is designed to create ill-will and anti-British feeling not only in America, but in India and Egypt."

"Yet the British government apparently is convinced that a policy of tactfulness is the most dignified and effective one."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MEERMAK SQUARE THEATRE

"Jennie Be Good," a story of modern life with its usual quota of modern complications, features the current program at the Meermaek Square theatre and brings once more to the stage the special talents of Mary Miles Minter, a fascinating sort of miss, worthy of the title of one of the screen's most delightful young women.

The story deals with a little girl, Jenny Be Good, who is cared for by her old grandmother. She meets and secretly marries Royal Kensington, the son of parents who have social aspirations. They learn of his secret marriage and at once set about to part the young couple. Jenny, through the influence, has the marriage annulled, and Royal, due to the deception of his family, marries Jolanda, a debutante of the smart set. There are many contrasts of the vices and virtues of the common people with those of the so-called American aristocracy and the gripping story is relieved by a vein of humor.

There are few who doubt Miss Minter's consummate skill as an artist. It is always a treat to see her in a play and the producers' problem is to secure stories worthy of her beauty and art. In "Jennie Be Good" they have been successful. In the title role of "Jenny," Miss Minter has splendid opportunities for character delineation. It is a wonderful role of self-sacrifice rewarded in the end by happiness well deserved. An adequate supporting cast assists Miss Minter.

The second feature for the first half of the week is "The Gas Attack," a production in which international romance of a distinctly modern tone plays a prominent part. Claire Whitney, a star new to Meermaek Square, audiences but none the less appealing for that matter, has the leading role and there is an adequate supporting cast.

A comedy, "The Gas Attack," the International News and a Chester Outing picture round out a well-balanced bill.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A sketch that opens up with all the earmarks of a sure enough hair-raising thriller and closes in a less tense but very entertaining manner. "In the Dark," labelled a mystery melodrama novelty and underlined as the feature of the week's vaudeville at H. F. Keith's theatre.

The scene is laid in the corridor of a small hotel in a Connecticut town. The time is not clearly evident, but probably near midnight. As the curtain rises, the melodrama gets down to business at once and a shot is heard. A woman screams, rushes from her room and from a nearby room comes a man. The excitement soon brings the hotel manager, the hotel maid and several other guests. Among them is a judge who happens to be staying at the hotel on the eve of a very important murder trial.

The judge immediately begins investigating. One by one, circumstances evidence the crime on the various guests and people connected with the hotel and finally suspicion is thrown on the judge himself. And then it is explained that the judge enjoyed when actually seen and heard—the denouement. It is strikingly original and well worth seeing.

Harry Arner and Netta Packer are two of the funniest people seen here in some time. Harry is small, affects white hair and is a genuine comedian. Netta is stately, brunette and not at all afraid of working hard. Together they fire shot after shot of fun bullets that pierce deeply. Harry's song about the "Arnerettes," the Portuguese, the Armenians and the Greeks, is a lesson in Americanization in itself.

Dorothy Browne is a dainty little lady, blonde and possessing eyes that sparkle and gleam continuously. In addition she has a voice that she would never let her "widow" pumber last evening appeared strongly, and her delineation of the youngster who was "going to be" because she was "in wrong" with the rest of her family, got a big hand. The only objection one may register is that Miss Browne is a bit starchy with her numbers.

Sylvia Loyall & Co. have an animal act far and beyond the merits of most offerings of the kind. White muzzles, dozens of them, figure in the scenic effect of the act and rarely has so beautiful a scenic effect been presented here. An intelligent French couple adds much to the entertainment quality of the offering.

Harry Masters and Jack Kraft are dancers from head to toe. Even while they sing their legs are in motion and their horizontal of dancers of the best present and future lifts the act out of the routine of such affairs.

The Gerards, Lynne screen stars, and the four Casino "bambos" are excellent in their respective lines. A Bruce scenic picture, "Times of the Day" and the Kismet News. The evening round out a thoroughly worthwhile bill.

OWL THEATRE

There's a big bill and a good bill too, at the Owl Theatre this week. The

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Scalp should be washed very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most people wash their hair with soap, which is a mistake. This does the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for the scalp is to use a mild coconut oil shampoo. Coconut is pure and gentle, and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two washings with it cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. Shampoo bottles the hair with water and rubs it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rubs out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsated coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few douches will supply every member of the family for months. —Adv.

features, plenty of smaller reels and a scrupulously clean and pleasing environment to enjoy them in, as well as good music and fine decorations.

The leading feature is "The Deep Purple," taken from the play of the same name by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner. It has just finished a long run in Boston. It's a Mayflower production, the makers of "The Miracle Man," and easily keeps up the record set in that great picture. The other feature is Charlotte Walker in her latest picture, "Eve in Exile." Fox comedy, a now reel and the third episode of "Dimplex" Walker in "The Million Dollar Mystery" complete the bill.

One can see the hand of the master in the mounting of the big picture, "The Deep Purple." A New York crook's confederate working in the west, nothing but a "nose-peak" in the person of a rich young engineer is going east. The chief of the underworld gang is "summering" in the country. The western man is a tempting prize, but it will take good bait to land him, so the country girl, Evelyn, is induced to elope. She is used in the badger game, when the confederations begin. But the underground country girl finds romance—but it must be left to her or she who views the picture to discover where and how she found it.

Miriam Cooper plays the leading part in this picture, which is directed by R. A. Walsh. Vincent Serrano is the man who seeks to use her as bait in the badger game. Serrano is a polished villain.

"Eve in Exile," with Charlotte Walker, will be liked. There is an exciting combination there, a "butterfly" condemned to the country through the bankruptcy of her speculator father, a brute of a man with a thin coat of civilization—that's Toni Santachi—a writer, a vixen of a wife with a husband in India, that's the combination that leads into a near murder, and happily out of it.

The comedy is a roarer and the third episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery" shows the story kicking rapidly under way. The news reel contains many of the latest news features of the day.

THE STRAND THEATRE

The headline at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week is "The Cup of Fury," a phony play, which features Helene Chadwick in the title role. This play deals with a young American woman who runs away from her early environment to seek a stage career. Her success leads her abroad where she becomes an innocent factor in a German plot. Despite her surroundings, however, she retains her fearless spirit, and home pride and returns to the country shortly after her entry into the war.

The girl applies to Davidge, an ardent suitor, for a place in his ship-building yards and insists upon doing overalls and joining the riveting gang, which after some time she is allowed to do. In the course of her performance she succeeds in defeating a German plot and of course the play ends with a little romance.

Another interesting picture that is being shown at the Strand is "The Tailor," in which Madeline Travers appears in the leading role. This play brings about an interesting study of divorce and its consequences, when the girl is forced to separate from her husband because of his abuses while under the influence of liquor. She promises to marry a man who takes her to a beautiful apartment, but he makes excuses and postpones the marriage. Complications arise and the girl follows. The action of the play is strong, while the scenic effects are most pleasing. In addition to these two clever films, there is a very instructive series of current events, while the comedy is of the laugh-a-minute type. The musical numbers by Miss Jessie Robbing are very enjoyable, while a young man entertains with good vocal selections.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The up-to-the-minute comedy, "The High Cost of Loving," by Frank Mandel produced at the Lowell Opera House all this week under the direction of J. Francis Kirk, is accompanied by moving pictures of the Kloby-Belt boxing contest between Harry and the Wild-Hyson match on May 1. They are shown upon the screen between the acts.

The play shows all the Lowell Players at their usual high standard, but, departing from a run of seriousness and tragedy, each one must fill a comedy position. The cast includes Kinko, a mustache merchant, and his wife, Emma, both object to the attentions of one Lawrence Tucker, a lawyer, to their daughter Cora Tucker. The lawyer who has prosecuted the claims of insurance companies against Kinko and for that reason the mustache merchant dislikes him. Cora's mother arranges for the visit of a young college professor to the home and seeks his engagement to her daughter.

Emma Kinko, Edward Hauser, her brother and Albert Bean, her brother-in-law, are all members of the Purity league in their town and report that Tucker has had too many love affairs and that his attentions to Cora should not be allowed.

A former ballet girl comes into the story and it is recalled that the four men of the family were mixed up in some sort of an escapade with her years before. With the appearance of the college professor and his purpose to win Kinko's daughter, the mustache merchant is on the verge of nervous prostration when he is called "father" by him. All four men who had the escapade with the ballet girl think that the professor is their son by her and they become involved in the most ridiculous predicament. Trying to conceal their predicament from their wives and the Purity league, which, by the way, starts an investigation, Lawrence Tucker, the Lowell lawyer, with Cora, knowing that the story about the child of the chorus girl is a myth, presses his knowledge of the case against Kinko and the college professor and awakens the college professor is the child of the dancer.

The principal part, Ludwig Kinko, is played to perfection by Jack Bennett while William Melville proves very entertaining as Albert Bean. Eugene Shakespeare as the college professor is well appreciated while Marguerite Fielding and Violet Star and Priscilla Knowles fill their parts with effectiveness. The other characters prove to be excellent support in the entanglements of the plot.

With the appearance of the college professor and his purpose to win Kinko's daughter, the mustache merchant is on the verge of nervous prostration when he is called "father" by him. All four men who had the escapade with the ballet girl think that the professor is their son by her and they become involved in the most ridiculous predicament. Trying to conceal their predicament from their wives and the Purity league, which, by the way, starts an investigation, Lawrence Tucker, the Lowell lawyer, with Cora, knowing that the story about the child of the chorus girl is a myth, presses his knowledge of the case against Kinko and the college professor and awakens the college professor is the child of the dancer.

The principal part, Ludwig Kinko, is played to perfection by Jack Bennett while William Melville proves very entertaining as Albert Bean. Eugene Shakespeare as the college professor is well appreciated while Marguerite Fielding and Violet Star and Priscilla Knowles fill their parts with effectiveness. The other characters prove to be excellent support in the entanglements of the plot.

features, plenty of smaller reels and a scrupulously clean and pleasing environment to enjoy them in, as well as good music and fine decorations.

The leading feature is "The Deep Purple," taken from the play of the same name by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner. It has just finished a long run in Boston. It's a Mayflower production, the makers of "The Miracle Man," and easily keeps up the record set in that great picture. The other feature is Charlotte Walker in her latest picture, "Eve in Exile." Fox comedy, a now reel and the third episode of "Dimplex" Walker in "The Million Dollar Mystery" complete the bill.

One can see the hand of the master in the mounting of the big picture, "The Deep Purple." A New York crook's confederate working in the west, nothing but a "nose-peak" in the person of a rich young engineer is going east. The chief of the underworld gang is "summering" in the country. The western man is a tempting prize, but it will take good bait to land him, so the country girl, Evelyn, is induced to elope. She is used in the badger game, when the confederations begin. But the underground country girl finds romance—but it must be left to her or she who views the picture to discover where and how she found it.

Miriam Cooper plays the leading part in this picture, which is directed by R. A. Walsh. Vincent Serrano is the man who seeks to use her as bait in the badger game. Serrano is a polished villain.

"Eve in Exile," with Charlotte Walker, will be liked. There is an exciting combination there, a "butterfly" condemned to the country through the bankruptcy of her speculator father, a brute of a man with a thin coat of civilization—that's Toni Santachi—a writer, a vixen of a wife with a husband in India, that's the combination that leads into a near murder, and happily out of it.

The comedy is a roarer and the third episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery" shows the story kicking rapidly under way. The news reel contains many of the latest news features of the day.

THE STRAND THEATRE

The headline at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week is "The Cup of Fury," a phony play, which features Helene Chadwick in the title role. This play deals with a young American woman who runs away from her early environment to seek a stage career. Her success leads her abroad where she becomes an innocent factor in a German plot. Despite her surroundings, however, she retains her fearless spirit, and home pride and returns to the country shortly after her entry into the war.

The girl applies to Davidge, an ardent suitor, for a place in his ship-building yards and insists upon doing overalls and joining the riveting gang, which after some time she is allowed to do. In the course of her performance she succeeds in defeating a German plot and of course the play ends with a little romance.

Another interesting picture that is being shown at the Strand is "The Tailor," in which Madeline Travers appears in the leading role. This play brings about an interesting study of divorce and its consequences, when the girl is forced to separate from her husband because of his abuses while under the influence of liquor. She promises to marry a man who takes her to a beautiful apartment, but he makes excuses and postpones the marriage. Complications arise and the girl follows. The action of the play is strong, while the scenic effects are most pleasing. In addition to these two clever films, there is a very instructive series of current events, while the comedy is of the laugh-a-minute type. The musical numbers by Miss Jessie Robbing are very enjoyable, while a young man entertains with good vocal selections.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The up-to-the-minute comedy, "The High Cost of Loving," by Frank Mandel produced at the Lowell Opera House all this week under the direction of J. Francis Kirk, is accompanied by moving pictures of the Kloby-Belt boxing contest between Harry and the Wild-Hyson match on May 1. They are shown upon the screen between the acts.

The play shows all the Lowell Players at their usual high standard, but, departing from a run of seriousness and tragedy, each one must fill a comedy position. The cast includes Kinko, a mustache merchant, and his wife, Emma, both object to the attentions of one Lawrence Tucker, a lawyer, to their daughter Cora Tucker. The lawyer who has prosecuted the claims of insurance companies against Kinko and for that reason the mustache merchant dislikes him. Cora's mother arranges for the visit of a young college professor to the home and seeks his engagement to her daughter.

Emma Kinko, Edward Hauser, her brother and Albert Bean, her brother-in-law, are all members of the Purity league in their town and report that Tucker has had too many love affairs and that his attentions to Cora should not be allowed.

A former ballet girl comes into the story and it is recalled that the four men of the family were mixed up in some sort of an escapade with her years before. With the appearance of the college professor and his purpose to win Kinko's daughter, the mustache merchant is on the verge of nervous prostration when he is called "father" by him. All four men who had the escapade with the ballet girl think that the professor is their son by her and they become involved in the most ridiculous predicament. PROVIDES FOR POLISH OUTLET TO BLACK SEA

WARSAW, May 9.—(By Associated Press).—The military economic and political convention signed by Poland and Ukraine just before the opening of the drive toward Kiev is understood here to have provided for a Polish outlet to the Black sea.

Such a southern outlet has been a Polish ambition dating far back in the national history.

In assisting in the reorganization of Ukraine under the leadership of General Petlura, Poland, according to the reported agreement, will have a vice minister in the Ukrainian ministry, which will be composed principally of experts, in order to help the new state obtain a footing in its fight for existence.

Poland, the understanding is, will have virtual control of the railroads through the vast stretches of wheat country from which the Bolsheviks have been deriving benefit during the period of their occupation and which the soviet forces are still fighting to hold in the south.

It is understood that Poland agrees to give Ukraine military support for 10 years.

MUNICIPAL COURT

John Henry Barleycorn Shows Signs of Comeback

Fred Doucette pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in the municipal court this morning, but was held for sentence until his case is further investigated. Residents of a house at 29 Baxter street, testified that Doucette, in company with another man, attempted to break into their home one night recently after 11 p. m. At the time the family was asleep but the wife of the owner, Mrs. Wilfred Ramsey, was awakened by a noise and opening a window looked out onto a veranda and saw Doucette, she claims, trying to open the door. She called her husband and he made further investigation and came to the conclusion that there were two men trying to break in so he called on his father for aid. Doucette attempted to run away, it is said, and the father fired two shots to scare him. Later, not far from the house Doucette was caught.

In court this morning Doucette claimed that he had $16 on his person which had either been lost or stolen from him. The court considered this no justification for his attempted break. When asked about the man who, it was alleged, was with him, the defendant could not recall such a companion, nor as to the events which caused the loss of his money. The court decided he was drunk, but continued the case for one week and held him in $300 bonds to allow for investigation as to the man who the witnesses claim was with him and escaped.

How Ladies Improve Looks!

"Many ladies, old and young, suffer a round of torture with their faces and many are so frail, thin and bloodless that their splendid features are lost; light of face, while a vain attempt to conceal the angularity of the face, does not do one but themselves and really excites the pity or ridicule of the world," said a well known largely employed specialist, in a recent lecture at a young ladies college. "I do not mind expressing a little secret of mine to all such, as it can do no harm and may result in your happiness and beauty. It is simply this: Any thin, bloodless, nerve-tortured man or woman can become as fit as the fittest by taking regularly for several months a specially obtained pharmaceutical product known by the profession and pharmacists as three-grain hypophosphates, put up in sealed packages with directions for home use."

Sickness Reduces Earning Capacity

Health is needed today as never before to keep pace with the increasing cost of living. The man or woman whose earning capacity is lowered by sickness is seriously handicapped, for debt may be added to his burdens.

No one can afford to disregard the slightest warning symptom. When the blood becomes so thin that the complexion is pale and sallow, when indigestion and dizzy spells become frequent, when the slightest effort seems to exhaust the strength, it is time to begin treatment with the tonic which Mr. S. A. Hegan, of No. 25 Oxford street, Portland, Me., recommends. "For more than thirty years I had suffered from stomach trouble," says Mr. Hegan. "I had taken many remedies but without benefit and there were almost constant pains in my stomach. Food distressed me, causing gas. I was very weak and completely run down, my skin was sallow and I could not sleep well."

"A friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to me and I procured a box. I could see a decided improvement in my condition after a few days' treatment and continued taking the remedy for months until I had completely recovered. As my appetite improved I gained strength and the pains entirely disappeared. I eat with pleasure now and no longer have to diet. I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and have recommended the remedy to my friends."

A valuable booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

caped, and to check up the alleged loss of money.

Liboire Savageau, charged with drunkenness and larceny of goods from a lodging house owner was let down with a $15 fine. He stole goods to the value of $15, it is alleged. Inspector Walsh reported that all the stolen articles have been restored to their owner.

Thomas King, in on his second offense for drunkenness, was found guilty, given continuance under security of $200 until May 18 and warned that meanwhile he must tread the straight and narrow.

John and Margaret Bulmer were both charged with drunkenness. It was only upon a plea for leniency and a promise to refrain in the future that Margaret was given a three months' sentence to the house of correction, suspended for one year. As John had been called before on a capias and failed to appear and also failed to pay a fine to the probation officer, the court ordered a sentence, to three months to the house of correction in addition to the former suspended sentence. The defendant said that he would appeal, so the court ordered the sentence revoked and the suspended sentence to be enforced on the old charge.

EXECUTIONS IN MEXICO—CARRANZA'S SON-IN-LAW SAID TO BE AMONG VICTIMS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(By Associated Press).—Mexico's latest revolution, after getting under way with a remarkable absence of fighting, apparently has not been without the usual tropical season of blood-letting. From behind the veil which obscures the events of the last few days are beginning to trickle the stories of wholesale political executions, counter-executions, and other accompaniments which have so frequently marked struggles for supremacy in the Latin-American countries. Carranza, variously reported cap-

Francisco Murgula, commander of the garrison in Mexico City, after the latter had carried out a wholesale slaughter of political prisoners, including 15 generals, forces of the revolution in control of the capital and most of the metropolitan cities of the country, while American warships and marines continued to move into strategic positions, were the features of yesterday's news.

REAL INDIAN MAID IN OPERA ROLE

NEW YORK, May 11.—Tsiannina, a member of the Cherokee-Creek tribe, is the first Indian prima donna to sing in grand opera. She inspired Charles Wakefield Cadman to compose "Shanewis," an Indian opera produced last year by the Metropolitan Opera company. "Shanewis" is to be given by the American Grand Opera company, with Tsiannina in the leading role. She has just returned from Europe, where she spent eight months as an entertainer among American troops.

EXPLAINS FALL OF CARRANZA

Foreign Policy and Insistence Upon Candidacy of Bonillas Chief Causes

Nephew Says Carranza Made Grave Error When He Antagonized U. S.

EL PASO, Tex., May 11.—Carranza's foreign policy especially with regard to the United States and his insistence upon the presidential candidacy of Ygnacio Bonillas were the chief causes of his downfall, according to Sebastian Carranza, Jr., his nephew, who until recently, was treasurer general of the state of Tamaulipas, and is now on the way to Boston.

"There is no doubt that the revolution will triumph," Sebastian Carranza said today. "I believe that it will profit by the mistakes of past regimes, and will pay greater attention to the industrial and educational development of the people."

President Carranza made a grave error when he antagonized the United States, his nephew said.

"Anyone who has studied the American people knows that they do not wish to gobble up Mexico," he added. Agents of the revolutionists announced here today that gambling in all parts of the territory controlled by the revolutionists would be stopped, and belief was expressed that the saloons would not be allowed to continue to operate for any length of time. The Juarez gambling houses were permanently closed today.

REPORT CARRANZA AT SAN MARCOS WITH 4000 TROOPS—REBELS CLOSE IN

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, May 10.—President Carranza, whose train was stopped at Apizaco by revolutionary forces on Saturday, has succeeded in breaking through the rebel lines and has come 20 miles nearer this city, according to dispatches. Latest reports received here indicate he is standing at bay with 4000 men, at San Marcos, a railroad junction point 27 miles northeast of Puebla. Rebel troops commanded by Generals Hill and Trevino are closing in on him there.

Soldiers mobilized at Oaxaca and Puebla have been sent to San Marcos and three train loads of other troops have been sent from here to participate in the operation.

Troops Deserted Aguilar. Troops commanded by General Candido Aguilar, governor of the state of Vera Cruz and son-in-law of President Carranza, have deserted him and gone over to the revolutionists, according to the correspondent of El Dietamen, who accompanied the Aguilar forces in western Vera Cruz.

Dispatches indicate President Carranza when he fled from Mexico City did not know of the revolutionary movement in this state, and planned to make a stand at the head of faithful troops sent here in anticipation of trouble.

Three hundred Mexican soldiers, federal employees and customs officials arrived last night from Tampico on the steamer Jalisco, having fled to this city after Manuel Pelaez had taken over control of that town. They knew nothing of the situation in the interior of the country.

While on their way to this city the refugees said, the Jalisco was in communication with a Mexican gunboat which reported that troops had been sent to disarm and capture Col. Carlos S. Orozco, chief of operations in the Tampico district, and the brother of General Murgula, who was recalled from Tampico recently and made commander of the department of the valley of Mexico.

The American destroyer which arrived here today, did not fire a salute upon reaching port, but her commander exchanged calls with the marine commandant here.

MEXICO CITY QUIET—GENERAL TREVINO NAMED MILITARY COMMANDER

MEXICO CITY, May 10 (via El Paso Junction and Dallas, Tex., by the Associated Press).—Mexico City today was quiet, with water, light and power services in full operation. Gen. Jacinto Trevino, to whom Gen. Fortunato Zulueta surrendered the capital, has been named military commander of the city.

The capture of a Carranza military train carrying many millions of pesos, is expected to relieve the threatened money shortage in Mexico City. The sudden advance in the price of foodstuffs is the only alarming feature in the situation.

Gen. Oregon told American guests today that he could have taken Mexico City a week earlier but preferred to wait and give President Carranza a chance to resign and avoid all disorder and bloodshed. Throughout the entire rebel movement, he said, there had been virtually no bloodshed and disorder in any part of the country.

All reports bear out Oregon's contentions that the idea of the liberal revolution had been to avoid fighting and to bring about a peaceful change in government and to later hold free elections. The most stressed point of the revolutionary leaders was that the revolution was a moral one against imposition by Carranza of a regime under his own presidential candidate. The revolutionists desired the resignation and not the death of Carranza, leaders declared, in order that free elections might be held and that Mexico might change its foreign policy to one of fostering friendly relations with other powers.

Doctor Advised Change of Climate

Run Down and Lungs Hurt—Stayed Home and Gained 22 Pounds

"In November, 1911, I had a severe cold and a gripe, which left me with a bad cough. My lungs and shoulder blades hurt so I couldn't sleep and I finally had to give up my job and was ordered to change climate. In April, 1912, I began taking Milks Emulsion. On the second bottle I could see a change. My appetite was better and I commenced to gain strength and weight. Now (August 23, 1912) I have used 23 bottles, have increased 22 pounds in weight and believe I am permanently cured."—W. F. Hourland, Route 5, Wolf City, Texas.

Mr. Hourland was fortunate in commencing to use Milks Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in restoring and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard, 157 Central street.—Adv.

MORE RETURN TO WORK AT NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, May 11.—The Manufacturers' association in a statement today claimed a gain of 831 looms in operation over the number operated yesterday which in turn showed a gain of 4000 looms over the previous week. The manufacturers say "the operatives are rapidly awakening to the situation and the injustice that has been imposed upon them by the 'loomhitters' union, on whose account the strike was declared."

Reports From Mexico Conflict

newspaper El Dictamen, a member of the Associated Press, bearing Monday's date, declared that Carranza, who was making an effort to reach Vera Cruz, had broken through the revolutionary lines and was standing at bay with 4000 men at San Marcos, 27 miles south of Puebla.

Rebels Claim Carranza Captured

On the other hand, the revolutionary leaders along the border are still claiming that Carranza has been made a captive, naming the place of his capture at a point near Apizaco in the state of Hidalgo. These reports, however, gave few details of the capture except to declare that the entire convoy was taken with the president, that three generals who were with him—Murguía, Orozco and Barragan—had been executed and another general wounded.

It was added that Carranza had been ordered returned to Mexico City with all consideration and that none of his party was to be killed or mistreated. Even re-supposing the accuracy of the reports that Carranza is still at liberty, his situation is precarious. It is announced that government troops in Vera Cruz have deserted their commander, General Candido Aguilar, the governor of the state and gone over to the revolutionists, making that state apparently no longer a safe refuge for the president.

Report Auxiliary Killed

In addition, revolutionary forces under General Hill and Trevino were reported closing in on Carranza near San Marcos. Other reports declared that General Aguilar, Carranza's son-in-law, had lost his life in the fighting between loyal forces and revolutionists in Vera Cruz state.

Mexico City despatches report the situation as quiet with the troops of General Obregon in full possession. All Mexico, in fact, with the exception of a few localities, notably the states of Tlaxcala, Campeche and Chiapas, is declared to be in the hands of the revolutionists.

The overturn has been effected with little bloodshed, advisers indicate.

MISS LEGGAT HAS BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Miss Frances Leggat, physical instructor for the girls at the high school, was very agreeably surprised this afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Colonial restaurant, by a group of eighteen girls of the school. Miss Myrtle Rooney, assistant instructor of calisthenics, and Miss Bertha Chapman, accompanist for the girls on their exhibition night, both had active parts in the preparations and the joviality of the event. The occasion was a surprise birthday party in honor of Miss Leggat.

To arrange matters that Miss Leggat should not know of the luncheon, one of the girls had previously invited her to have lunch with her alone. It was not until Miss Leggat was surrounded by her friends that she realized the purpose of the invitation. Throughout the luncheon she was the happy recipient of good wishes from the girls who freely expressed their sentiments of appreciation of her work at the school.

GEORGE LE GRAND HONORED BY FRIENDS

A number of friends from Lowell, Cambridge and Billerica gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George LeGrand in River street, Billerica, center, last evening, to assist Mr. LeGrand in celebrating his 32nd birthday anniversary. There were about forty people in the party and each and every one assisted in making the affair an enjoyable one.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome silver electric percolator to Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand by John Magerty in behalf of Cambridge friends. Another delegation from Cambridge presented Mrs. LeGrand with an electric iron, accompanied with the suggestion that it be used only for ironing purposes. Time

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I could rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy of such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to set at all druggists for 25 cents a large box."

Read this letter, written February 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.

"I know I shall never forget similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."

Is it any wonder I am happy?

Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcer. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first I took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just a few dollars worth of the ointment, the ulcer was 5 inches by 6 inches. It is all healed and I can walk. Never, never, will I be without Peterson's ointment."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it. Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y.

SCHOOL KIDS ARE JOYFUL ALLIES OF UNDERPAID STRIKING TEACHERS

Teachers in many parts of the United States are striking, quitting and demanding larger pay. This group of men and women teachers in Newport, Ky., heads the striking instructors, who say that they cannot support themselves on the salaries they have been receiving.

In the foreground some of the "victims" of the strike. The youngsters bear up bravely. They sympathize with their teachers, and anyhow, it is spring, and the backyards, vacant lots and playgrounds of Newport are filled with glad sounds. In New York city, teachers are fighting for relief, and many of them are seeking other employment. Children (one of them on right) have been siding teachers by carrying placards on the street.

contributed much to the success of the evening.

The party broke up at midnight with all thanking the happy couple for their hospitality and wishing them many more such enjoyable anniversaries.

TAFT SCORES WILSON

Declares President is the Greatest Obstructionist in Washington

CHICAGO, May 11.—William Howard Taft yesterday scored President Wilson for his statement that the democratic party must stand for four square for the Versailles treaty in the coming campaign.

"Mr. Wilson is the greatest obstructionist in Washington," said Mr. Taft. "He desires to destroy all if he cannot get all."

COMMISSION ACT BEGINS TO BRISTLE

Amended so that the commission will have the right to summon witnesses and require the production of all books, records, contracts, etc., on file at city hall, the resolve introduced in the state senate last week by Senator Frank H. Putnam, providing for the appointment of a commission of 15 members by Mayor Thompson to study the city's charter needs, was passed by the house yesterday and will again go to the senate for concurrence in the amendments.

The amendments were designed by the local delegation to the state house. The portion of the resolve providing that the charter commission also look into the matter of establishing a finance commission here was dropped. It was also provided that the general rules of the legislature relative to city charters be suspended as far as this city is concerned until the commission makes its report next January. This means that there will be no opportunity on the part of interested citizens to petition for various forms of charter while the commission is doing its work.

PASTOR SCORES MODERN FASHIONS

"Although she may be a faithful church attendant, any girl who exposes herself by the lack of, or by the thinness of her clothing is lacking in common decency and modesty," said Rev. Charles P. Heaney, pastor of St. John's church, No. Chelmsford, on Sunday. The pastor branded modern dances as a disgrace to the community in which they occur.

Rev. Fr. Heaney said that unless some of the girls added a bounce to their gowns and procured a shawl for their shoulders, he would not allow any more dances under the auspices of the parish or the societies connected with the church.

CRUSHING DEFEAT FOR GERMAN CANDIDATES

DANZIG, May 10.—German candidates for the Polish Diet in the elections which have just been held in districts of East Prussia and Pomerania which were given to Poland by the peace treaty, have met with a crushing defeat. Only three Germans out of 15 candidates were elected, a majority of the seats going to representatives of the Polish democratic party.

SOCIALISTS ARE AT ODDS

Chicago Delegates Object to "Conservative" Leaders and Their Platform

NEW YORK, May 11.—Shouting for the radicalism of German, French, Italian and Russian socialism, the Illinois delegation to the convention of the socialist party of America yesterday launched a concerted attack on "conservative" leaders and their platform demands for popular administration of private property "for the benefit of all."

J. Louis Engahl, Samuel H. Holland and William F. Kruse, all of Chicago, and the last two under sentences for violation of the war-time espionage act, captained the radical element's troops yesterday. When the "Hillquit platform" was submitted with the motion that it be adopted, Holland gained the floor amid a tumult of waving hands and shouts.

"I don't like this platform at all," he cried. "It contains nothing but nice phrases. We have had no opportunity to consider it. Yet Hillquit has the audacity to move its adoption. What are they trying to do, throw it down our throats?"

Hillquit sharply assigned the casting of suspicion by one delegation upon another without concrete cause as an act of obstructionists instead of radicals. He said the delegates would find the platform submitted worthy of close attention, although "certain beloved phrases are missing from it."

The convention finally voted on motion by Municipal Court Justice Jacob Panken of New York, which Hillquit declared acceptable, to constitute itself a committee of the whole to consider the platform today.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS STENOGRAPHERS

The Lowell office of the United States civil service commission announces that the government is in need of the services of several hundred stenographer-typists at entrance salaries of $1000 to $1200 per annum plus a bonus of $20 a month. Examinations may be taken in all of the large cities of New England. They are held in Boston every Tuesday. Persons desiring appointment are asked to send at once to the civil service commission, Washington, D. C., a properly completed application made out on form 321.

OFFER 15 P. C. INCREASE TO FALL RIVER WORKERS

FALL RIVER, May 11.—Cotton manufacturers of this city last night made an offer to textile operatives of a 15 per cent increase in wages, effective June 1. The offer, which was said to be voluntary, was made at a wage conference with the textile council and will be acted upon by the six unions affiliated with the council at meetings tomorrow night. About 35,000 operatives will be affected.

"This was said to be the first time in the history of the cotton industry in this city that a general wage advance has been voluntarily offered by the manufacturers. The question of wage adjustments, however, had been under preliminary consideration for several weeks. The announcement of the offer was made through a joint statement and neither the manufacturers nor the union officials would make any comment."

PREVENTS SALE OF GERMAN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The shipping board, under a decree signed yesterday by Justice Bailey in the district supreme court, is perpetually enjoined from selling the 23 former German liners seized when the United States entered the war. An appeal in the case by the board was noted some time ago. Yesterday's decree resulted from a suit for an injunction brought by W. R. Hearst in his capacity as a taxpayer.

EVERYBODY IS DOING IT

Reason Landlord Gave for Raising Rent—Judge Refuses to Evict Tenants

NEW YORK, May 11.—Rent profiteers received a setback in the second district municipal court yesterday when Justice Scanlon refused the request of landlords for eviction warrants in 650 cases and granted the tenants a year's stay on the basis of their April rent. In each case the renters had refused to pay alleged increases.

When the owner of one apartment house was asked by the court why he had raised the rents he said, "Why, everybody is doing it, and I don't see why I should not do it."

After refusing eviction warrants, Justice Scanlon told the landlord to "go back to the Frog Hollow section of the Bronx and tell the other landlords of the success you met with in this court."

COUNTY WILL FINANCE NEW COURT HOUSE

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—A bill putting upon Middlesex county the expense of a new court house in Malden was given a final reading in the house yesterday, after a motion to refer it to the next general court had been defeated.

Mr. Rice of Newton opposed the bill, on the ground that the present is not a good time for the county to erect any new buildings, an argument which prevailed in the case of a registry of deeds for Bristol county. He said the county has occupied for 20 years the building it is now proposed to purchase, the present owners having had the benefit of the rental for that period, and they now intend to unload on the state at prevailing prices for real estate. "The whole proposition," he declared, "is rotten from beginning to end."

Rep. Daggett of Somerville, defending the bill, said the building has not been properly heated for three years, and it has been necessary for court officers to wear overcoats in order to keep warm. Recently the rent was advanced from $1000 to $5500, and when the county commissioners demurred they were informed that if the increase was not paid within eight days the county furniture would be stored in the street.

Rep. Rice retorted that this was the only additional reason why the county should have refused to deal further with the present owners, to which Rep. Glazier of Hudson replied that the present bill gives the county commissioners an opportunity to rid themselves of the present owners and put up a building of their own.

Senator Pearson of Lowell was unsuccessful today in his effort to bring about an investigation designed to determine if motor buses or jitneys are more economical than trolley cars for transportation purposes.

In the attempt to bring about such an inquiry, he moved that the senate substitute for an adverse report resolve directing the department of public utilities to make the examination in question. On a voice vote it was defeated and the adverse report accepted.

SEN. LODGE SELECTED

Named Temporary Chairman of Republican Convention —To Sound Keynote

CHICAGO, May 11.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, republican senate leader and author of the Lodge reservations to the League of Nations covenant, will sound the keynote of the coming presidential campaign at the republican national convention in Chicago on June 6.

The committee on arrangements yesterday selected Senator Lodge for temporary chairman and voted to recommend to the convention that some one else be chosen permanent chairman to relieve Mr. Lodge of the strain of directing the entire convention. Four years ago Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio held both positions.

The committee's recommendation, according to several committeemen, probably will pave the way for the election of ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana as permanent chairman.

Lafayette B. Gleason of New York, secretary of the last two republican conventions, was again chosen temporary secretary. Six assistants, three men and three women also were named. They are Mrs. Guy Gannett of Maine, Miss Jeanette A. Hyde of Utah, Mrs. Chloe Adair Morgan of Kansas, Richard J. Deamish of Pennsylvania, Harry Giovanoli of Kentucky and Fred Wilson of Missouri.

Edward J. Thayer of Indiana, sergeant-at-arms of the national committee, was appointed temporary sergeant-at-arms of the convention with Guy Howard of Minneapolis and McGinnis Hatfield of West Virginia as assistants.

Maj. Gen. James A. Ryan was named chief doorkeeper. His assistants will all be ex-service men. Gen. Ryan was Gen. Pershing's chief of staff on the Mexican expedition and later commanded two officers' training camps at Fort Sheridan.

The committee selected Gen. J. Hart of Wisconsin as official reporter, and Dr. John Dill Robertson of Chicago as chief of the medical staff. The ushers will be ex-service men under the direction of Capt. Knowlton Ames. Addison G. Proctor of St. Joseph.

ACTION ON 2.75 BEER POSTPONED BY SENATE

BOSTON, May 11.—The state senate yesterday, on motion of Senator Wells, postponed until next Monday consideration of Gov. Coolidge's veto of the 2.75 per cent. beer bill.

Unofficially, when interviewed after the session, several senators stated that it had been generally agreed that it would be well to lay the matter over until the United States supreme court had rendered an opinion on the constitutionality of the Volstead act. The supreme court adjourned until May 17.

By a standing vote of 25 to 4 the senate ordered to a third reading the resolve for the appointment of a commission to consider holding an international exposition in or near Boston in 1923 in commemoration of the landing of the Pilgrims. A motion to suspend the rules and pass the measure to be engrossed was carried over opposition by Senator Reed of Tarrant. Senator Reed moved reconsideration and his motion was placed in the orders for today.

The bill under the provisions of which city and town authorities may contribute to the cost of the operation of the Eastern Massachusetts St.

MULVEY AND NERNEY TO MEET FOR SECOND TIME

Billy Mulvey of the South End and Young Nerney of Centerville who met twice in a thrilling eight-round bout, will meet in one of the ten-round numbers of an all-star show at the Crescent A. on Thursday night.
 The previous bout between the local pair was one of the best eight-round numbers of the season and while Mulvey was given the award he had a slight advantage. Friends of Nerney were convinced that had the bout gone a couple of more rounds the Centerville boxer would have won out. Mulvey's supporters, however, have an opposite view. But the admirers of both feel that a ten-round bout will give both a better opportunity. Mulvey and Nerney have been training for two weeks, for they were scheduled to meet last week, and both are reported in excellent condition.
 Al Dimond of Lowell, who looks like a corner, will meet Kid Caver of New Haven in a ten round event, while Woosick of Lowell, who looks like a corner, will meet Johnny Avila of Woburn. Will meet Tom McFarland of Boston in the other ten round event. Young Ketchel of Lawrence and Young Wells of Lowell will appear in a six-round preliminary.

Jim Demas sends in word that he would like to meet Frankie Sullivan within the roped arena.

"Daniel" of the New York Sun in commenting on the new middleweight champion says:

"When it comes to developing surprising results in boxing the middleweight class seems to be in the lead. Johnny Wilson taking the title from Mike O'Dowd on points in a 12-round bout was something of a stunner, but it surely was not half as surprising as McCoy's one-round victory by a clean knockout over George Chin in Brooklyn in 1914. McCoy in turn yielded the title to O'Dowd, being stopped in six rounds in Brooklyn three years ago. O'Dowd added glory to the championship when he went overseas with the army and incidentally defeated some of the best of the boxers over there. But O'Dowd's record in the previous holders of the championship—the great Stanley Ketchel, greatest of all middleweights; then, Fitzsimmons, Frank Klaus, who stopped Georges Carpentier, and Bill Papke, who turned the same trick in Paris. Nor did O'Dowd show the boxing qualities of Kid McCoy.

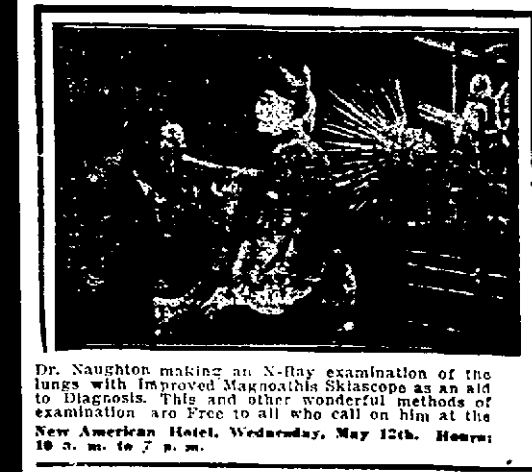

Wilson's victory will tend to lift the middleweight class out of the inaction into which it fell with the rise of O'Dowd to the top of the division. It is entirely possible that when O'Dowd and Wilson meet again the old champion will regain all honors. We may see the start of a Lewis-Hitton series. Better than that no fight has seen some of the best championship in the ring. Wilson, by the way, is an Italian—the second boxer of such parentage to win the world's championship. The other is Pete Herman, the bantamweight title holder. Johnny Dundee, son of Sluggie, came near the title in the lightweight class and Casper Leon, from Palermo, was near title winner in the bantamweight division.

There is considerable interest in the bout between Lew Tander of Philadelphia and Georges Papin, the French lightweight champion in Jersey City tomorrow night.

On next Friday night Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson will meet for their fifth clash. Jack has won two victories, Jackson getting the first by a knockout and the fourth via the decision route and Dundee coping the others by referees' awards.

SAYS DALY IS LOGICAL OPPONENT FOR WILDE

"It gives me a big laugh, almost makes me scream to read Jimmy Wilde's persistent challenge for a return bout with Jack Sharkey. The latter outpointed the British flyweight champion in his American debut, but do many people know that my protégé, Frankie Daly, knocked Sharkey out in four rounds, and beat him a couple of other times? 'Tis a matter of record. Which all goes to prove that the boy the Englishman should tackle before going back home is Daly."

In these words George Lawrence, the Australian sportsman, who is handling Daly's affairs in America, expressed himself in a letter sent out regarding a match with Wilde, George says:

"Daly has proven his worth time and time again to a stellar match, having recently beaten Pat Moore in Boston. Previous to the Moore match, Daly took Joe Burman and Frankie Mason in one camp. This happened shortly upon his arrival from France where he 'boxed' for Uncle Sam in the trenches. He holds two decisions over Joe Lynn.

"If Wilde doesn't care for Daly's games," Lawrence says, "his boy is ready at a moment's notice to go in a ring with Pete Herman, bantamweight title-holder. 'It is all a matter of challenge Herman and keep at him,' declared Lawrence, 'but he crawls into a shell when he hears the mention of Daly's name and stays in there until someone speaks about something else. I claim that Herman is not the legitimate champion, and I will bet all I have and can scrape up, that he cannot make the weight, but Daly can make 116 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Talking about Herman's weight, Lawrence said he was glad to see the Philadelphia boxing authorities take up the weight question in earnest. 'I wish that other night, centum and thrush it out once and for all. It has been a crime the way some of these so-called contenders have gone around faking their weights. Some seldom weigh in for a fight.'

Daly is a hard biter and gives the crowd a run for their money. Several promoters are anxious to set a 'Daly' bout, but Lawrence is holding off on this until he fails to connect with either Wilde or Herman. Lynch comes next and then Sharkey. 'Daly can whip Sharkey any time they start, and I don't believe they would draw well, but either Wilde or Herman with my boy would pack 'em in,' concludes George.

HEARD THE DRUM

Former Bantam Champ Now Salvation Army Man

BOSTON, May 11.—Truly "a man may be down, but he's never out," in the opinion of Dominic Sisto Gaudier, professionally known as "Young Sisto," and once the leading bantamweight of Rhode Island rings. Now he's a Salvation Army soldier and is mighty active in the effort of Providence to reach its quota during the appeal, May 10 to 20.

Gaudier has been a fighter all his life. His ring career began when he was only 15 and lasted for many years, until time forced him to retire. Age barred him from active fighting in the late war, but he was a member of a Massachusetts regiment of home volunteers and an employee in the Springfield arsenal.

After the war was over, penniless, discouraged, desperate, he was about ready to give up when he heard the sound of a drum. It meant to him what the gang at the end of a round of fighting days—restorative, advice and encouragement, for it was a Salvation Army drum.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 11.—Eddie Hearne, one of America's racing veterans who was a star when a majority of the present day generation of speed merchants were unknown, has joined forces with the Duesenberg team that will endeavor to repulse Europe's assault in the eighth international 500-mile sweepstakes in the Indianapolis motor speedway, Monday, May 31.

In last year's five-century, with a mount that was considerably slower than some of the imported creations in the fray, he outdrove and outgeneraled the entire field with the exception of Howard Wilcox, finishing in second position with a comfortable margin to spare.

EVERS NOTIFIES BOSTON COLLEGE OF DECISION TO JOIN NEW YORK GIANTS

BOSTON, May 11.—John Evers has changed his mind about accepting the Boston college coaching berth. The famed Keystone King has decided to tie up with the New York Giants under McGraw.

The following telegram addressed to Mr. Frank A. Reynolds, graduate manager of athletics of Boston college, was relayed to University Heights by telephone yesterday afternoon:

"Sorry, but you realize what a great opportunity this is for me and the only one that would make me change my plans.

Best of good luck to yourself and team. J. J. EVERS."

Contrary to reports in circulation on college authorities do not intend to hale the popular big leaguer into court for breach of contract. The fact is the athletic authorities at University Heights feel that Evers acted in good faith. Evers never did sign a Boston college contract. He did agree to come to Boston for the rest of the present season, but avoided formal agreement in the event of such a man desired.

contingency as the one that has now presented itself.

Boston college was not willing and probably could not afford to pay Evers a big league salary. Hence when the Trojan, consented to come to Boston he was doing so more for the love of the game than because of the monetary inducement. The feeling out at Boston college seems to be that Evers is justified in going after the money which his ability can command.

Meantime Boston college is again in the market for a big leaguer to coach the ball throwers, and Dave Shean is the

Member of House of Commons Asks if Great Britain Will Protest

LONDON, May 11.—Mr. Christopher Lowther, coalition unionist, asked in the house of commons yesterday whether the government's attention had been called to the report that the United States had seized the island of Taboga, which is the property of Panama, for the purpose of erecting fortifications, and whether, in view of Great Britain's desire to protect the rights of small nationalities, a protest would be made to the United States, and, further, whether the matter could be referred to the League of Nations.

Cecil Harmsworth, undersecretary of foreign affairs, in replying described the proposal of the United States in 1918 to erect defenses for the purpose of protecting the entrance to the canal, and America's latest decision to postpone action. Mr. Harmsworth added that it did not appear to be a matter in which the British government was called upon to intervene.

Mr. Lowther asked why it was Great Britain objected to the French occupying Frankfurt, and did not protest when the United States occupied an island belonging to a small nationality.

Andrew Bonar-Law, the government leader, replied that there was no analogy.

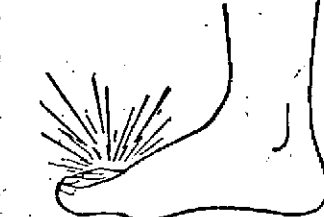

"As regards Germany," he said, "we acted together, and our objection was to any of the allies acting separately."

Weak blood, nervous dyspepsia helped by RED PILLS

for Pale and Weak Women

MRS. J. DUGAL

RED PILLS have proven a great boon to me in helping me to attend properly to my household duties, as I did not have a very strong constitution and my blood was in a poor condition. I was also a victim of nervous dyspepsia, of which I was relieved in very little time. I find that the properties of RED PILLS are simply marvellous, and have decided that they will be the first remedy I will try whenever I feel myself getting run-down.

NEIGHBORHOOD STORE IN FLAMES

Fire, believed to have been set by rats and matches caused damage to the extent of about $1000 to the store of Mrs. Elizabeth Gaffney at 145 Sixth street last evening. The fire was discovered at about 9.30 o'clock and an alarm was sent in, but when the firemen reached the house the blaze was pretty well under way and was making rapid progress. Several lines of hose were laid but all efforts on the part of the firefighters to save the contents of the store proved unavailing.

It is not known just how the fire started, but the owner believes it was caused by rats and matches, for shortly before she closed the place one of her employees heard a crackling noise inside the wall, but at that time they paid no attention to it. The damage is covered by insurance.

BUSINESS GIRLS' CLUB
Stating that the club was organized to develop girls physically, spiritually, mentally and socially, Miss Alice M. Theobald, president of the Business Women's club of Boston, addressed the Lowell Business Girls' club at the Y.W.C.A. last night. The important business of the meeting included the acceptance of a constitution and by-laws. Miss Florence Caldwell, president, acted as moderator for the meeting. An entertainment included solos by Ned Garland and Mrs. Marion Sibbey of Allerton. The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

SCRAMBLE SQUIRREL COMES HOME

The twins peeping from above, saw Scramble Squirrel start to climb the maple tree where he lived, his house being about half way up in a deep, roomy hole.

They could see Mrs. Squirrel, too, inside, busily getting lunch for she was expecting Scramble home that day from Scrub-Up Land. She had put out all the best tidies, and had made excellent dinner. It was cooling now in the kitchen—Nancy and Nick could smell it.

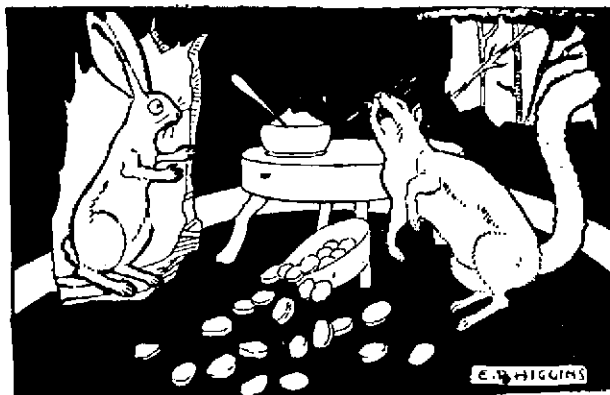

Well, Scramble started up the tree but he hadn't gone very far, when he lost his balance and fell down. He tried again, this time getting up a little further; but try as he would, and denly pop in and say "Boo" and surprise his wife.

She was just putting some acorn muffins onto the table when in he jumped. "Boo!" said Scramble, forgetting for the minute that he had Ben Bunny's ears on top of his head, and no tail at all!

Mrs. Squirrel gave a shriek and promptly fainted, the muffins spilling everywhere. No wonder! It was the first time in her life she had heard of a rabbit climbing a tree!

Scramble hears a noise. Nancy and Nick stayed in the woodpecker's hole in the old maple. Their Green Shoes had made them very tiny clutch as he could, down he went again!

A worried look came over his face, and he mopped his brow with his little red handkerchief. "My!" he gasped. "I do need my tail! I wish I hadn't traded my tail to Ben Bunny for his ears. These long ears of his on top of my head keep pulling me over, and no tail on the back of me makes me feel top-heavy."

"But it's too late now to feel sorry. I can't go back and tell Rubadub, the fairyman, that I don't like the bargain I made! I'll try once again." This time he succeeded and got almost home, for he had decided that he would sud-

so they were quite comfortable. Besides, they'd promised Rubadub, the fairyman, to find out if Scramble Squirrel was happy after he had exchanged his tail for Ben Bunny's long ears.

Scramble wasn't saying whether he was happy or not, but his wife made a dreadful fuss. "I get a headache every time I look at you," she complained. "Whenever you come home with the marketing, I think you're a rabbit climbing the tree, and all the birds think so, too. They chatter all day about it!"

Mr. Squirrel smiled a wise smile. "Never mind," he nodded slowly. "It will come out all right. I'm learning to climb slowly without my tail, besides when I wish to hide anywhere I don't have to be forever wondering if part of my bushy tail is sticking out somewhere to give me away. Also, these ears are great for hearing with! I can hear Snooty Skunk a mile away."

Just after that Scramble went off for some cress for Mrs. Squirrel to put into the soup. Nick and Nancy followed, for they wished to find out all they could to tell Rubadub when they returned to Scrub-Up Land.

Suddenly, up went Scramble's ears! (Bunny's ears really!) A faint rustling had come from behind the thorny bush near him. Aha! An enemy, discovered just in time! So Scramble squeaked hurriedly into a hole in an old stump.

"Am I all in," he wondered, "so I can't be seen? My, what a good thing I haven't a tail any more!" And he tucked in every stray hair and lay still as a mouse.

Nancy and Nick noticed something however, and they waited dreadfully to tell him. I'll tell you tomorrow what it was.

MOVIE CENSORSHIP

BILL PASSES HOUSE

BOSTON, May 11.—The bill to provide for the censoring of motion picture films by the department of public safety was passed to be engrossed by a voice vote in the Massachusetts house of representatives. A motion that it be referred to the next general court was rejected by a roll-call vote of 119 to 94. Mr. Sawyer of Ware sought to have the bill amended by striking out the clause which covers films which "incite to crime." His amendment was rejected, 74 to 41.

The senate bill for an additional clerk for the Suffolk county superior court for criminal business was debated at length and finally rejected. The house refused to order it to a third reading by a roll-call vote of 114 to 89.

After a sharp debate the house passed to be engrossed the bill to authorize Middlesex county to acquire land and property for a district court in Malden.

The ways and means committee reported favorably on the bill to increase the salary of the supervisor of administration from $5000 to $6000. The committee amended the bill to make the salary of the deputy supervisor $4500.

The committee on state house and libraries reported a bill to provide that there shall always be maintained an adequate passageway for foot passengers from north to south through the east wing of the state house, to be kept open during such hours as shall be determined by the superintendent of buildings.

BRYAN AND JOHNSON COMMENT ON PRES. WILSON'S APPEAL

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson's call to the democratic party to carry the treaty ratification issue into the campaign drew expressions yesterday from two members of his own party. William J. Bryan and Senator Reed of Missouri, and also from Senator Johnson of California, leader of the republican irreconcilable group in the senate treaty battle.

Senator Reed declared that such a platform would mean for the democrats the loss of every state north of the Mason and Dixon line and the breaking of the "Solid South."

"The president's demand that the treaty shall be accepted exactly as he brought it from Versailles is the finest scheme premeditated political suicide yet devised," he added.

Mr. Bryan, at his home in Florida, reaffirmed his declaration for immediate ratification by joint action of republican and democratic treaty friends, "in order to take the issue out of the campaign."

Senator Johnson said: "The president has consistently maintained his position and I can respect an adversary of that sort. Those for whom I have no respect are the men who were with the president when they thought his position was popular and who now, with the varying popular wind, embrace the so-called Lodge reservations, which they denounced for so long a time."

ing. sounded the keynote of Salvation Army work the world over, when he said: "We officers of the army do not want the money for ourselves, we are practically pledged to poverty, but give it to us that we may help others."

Col. Jenkins, editor-in-chief of Salvation Army publications and a national officer of the organization proved to be an intensely interesting man and speaker. He swung the door wide open—the door of opportunity—and impressed his auditors with an earnest appeal for co-operative effort. He was introduced by His Honor, Mayor Perry D. Thompson.

The actual business meeting followed a supper served by the restaurant department of the Community club. Executive Chairman D. L. Page presided, although he turned over much of the routine duties to Vice Chairman James B. Casey, who called upon the team leaders for reports as to the scope of their individual organizations.

Captains were asked to give whatever reports they had and while a few responded, the majority saved their subscriptions until the first official report meeting, scheduled for Wednesday noon at 12:30 o'clock.

One of the Salvation Army teams, Mrs. Klepitz, chairman, reported 209; Team 6, Capt. William Leggat, 453; Police team, Capt. Redmond Welch 1223, including $75 in 62 subscriptions from local Chinese merchants; Fire Department team, Capt. Edward P. Saunders, 337.75; Knights of Pythias team, 331.

Col. Jenkins, introduced by Mayor

Thompson as a man 27 years in Salvation Army service, expressed his happiness at being present, and in part spoke as follows:

"Thirty-seven years ago, when I entered Salvation Army work, I never dreamed that such a day would dawn. We Salvation Army folks never enjoyed the sort of popularity accorded us today. We have been projected into world prominence, and it is a new sensation. Not that we never had popularity in the past, but it has been of a different brand."

"The Salvation Army was founded 55 years ago by William Booth because of a great love for the lost—lost socially and religiously—and that step taken by General Booth contained the germ of the movement today. The Salvation Army still is pushing on because of a great love for the lost. Without this we could not exist."

"For a long time the Salvation Army walked on the ragged edge of absolute poverty and lived a hand-to-mouth existence. Every one of our army officers is practically pledged to a life of poverty, and I say this after careful thought. If you will pardon a personal illustration, once every week I sign a pay voucher, across the face of which is stamped $20.50, my pay per week, and I have been in the work heart and soul for 37 years. I venture to say that there is none among you who will say this is a princely salary for an editor-in-chief of all Salvation Army publications and a member of the national board."

"But my case is illustrative of all the officers of the army. They do not seek to become rich; we do not want money for ourselves, but to carry on work for others. I may safely say that in past years at least 40 per cent of the officers' time has been given over to the matter of getting the necessary money to pay such expenses as heat, light and rent. The worker always comes last and oftentimes, when there has been none left, he has gone without."

"A year ago the status of the army seemed to become revolutionized. I think it was because worst word of France—the place of greatest need—and where we always have been found and did just the same kind of work we always had done. Men in the battle areas were very kindly toward us and seemed to appreciate our feeble attempts to serve them. They showed us with unsought-for praise and wrote home the story of our work, and it seemed to change public opinion at home. People seemed to recognize the importance and need of our work as never before. Last year the people of this country decided to foot the bill of the army and gave us $14 millions of dollars. This money went toward the liquidation of debts that had hung over our neck like millstones. It allowed us to purchase new equipment and erect suitable buildings in which to carry on the work."

"This work must not stop or slow up, and I know that you men and women here assembled will see to it that Lowell's part of the service is maintained and allowed to grow and prosper."

Miss G. L. Baird, of 30 Glenville ave., Allston, Mass., writes: "I have been sick almost two years, had four doctors with little or no relief. I was growing thin every day, went from 138 to 111. I was so discouraged I didn't know what to do. One night, about three weeks ago, I picked up a paper and saw your Dr. Tru's Elixir. Family Laxative and Worm Expeller advertised. I made up my mind I had worms and the next day bought a small bottle of Dr. Tru's Elixir. I was surprised at the result, stomach worms looked as though it was just the skin of worms. The day before I took Dr. Tru's Elixir I thought I should go wild with the crawling in my stomach. I feel like a new person, all my friends say I look so much better. I wouldn't have believed anyone could feel so much better in such a short time. I can't give your medicine praise enough."

A most interesting and unique method of acknowledging faithful service has just been put into operation by the J. C. Ayer Company. As stated in these columns a few days since, this company has presented a life-insurance policy, issued by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, to each person who has been in the employ of the company for 25 years and over. There are twenty such persons, ranging in time of service from 25 to 40 years. A large number are now on the "waiting list," so that each year additional policies will be given.

A healthy-looking lot of people, we say, due, no doubt to the generous use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla each spring; together with a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral now and then, every time they catch a cold or hear of one coming around their way!

Recently these persons came together and formed the "Quarter-of-a-Century Club," the object being to look after each other's interests in every way possible, and thus further promote the feeling of good-will and fraternal fellowship which at present prevails among all the employees of the company.

The Club is to meet at least once a year, on the birthday of Dr. J. C. Ayer, which is the fifth of May, have an annual dinner or excursion, admit new members, and have a photograph taken.

We have here the first photograph of members of the Club.

A high compliment was paid to the local representatives of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, Messrs. Nicholas G. Norcross and Robert F. Marden, in being chosen to write this insurance, the order coming to them unsolicited, but the sterling strength of the Equitable and the standing of its local representatives give ample assurance in so wise a selection.

On Saturday, May 8, 1920, The "Quarter-of-a-Century" Club of the J. C. Ayer Company enjoyed another annual outing. All the members of the Club were present at this outing, and they certainly illustrated their enthusiasm when dinner time came at one of the leading hotels of Boston. Later they beat a hasty retreat to a matinee, where they all hugely enjoyed a mirth-provoking show.

It is nothing new these days to hear of employees having their lives insured; but it was reserved for the J. C. Ayer Company to be the "first" one to enter such a field. The Equitable Life Insurance Company appreciated this and published in their literature, sent to all parts of the world, engravings of the first photograph of the Club as given above, making suitable comments thereon. If the J. C. Ayer Company ever comes out "second" in anything, you may rest assured there is a world-wide catastrophe!

Colors you have wanted

DAINTIER pinks and blues—clearer greens—softer lavender—for your faded veils, or collars, or blouses.

You can get these lovelier, truer colors with Twink, the new colored flakes.

Twink is made by a wonderful new method for producing colors that makes it possible to get more exquisite shades than have ever before been obtained.

When it was found that in this product any fashionable shade could be produced, the highest authorities on fabric colors were asked to select this season's smartest shades. Twink was then made to match these colors.

The flakes dissolve instantly in boiling water. You swish your faded collar about in the rich lather. In a twinkling it has as lovely a color as when you bought it.

The Twink colors are so fast you can wash a garment several times before you need Twink it again. Twink will not harm any fabric that water alone will not harm.

STUMBLE MEANS A DROPPED STITCH

On the Isle of Corsica, knitting is not a passing fad or a war-time service. This peasant woman keeps her needles busy every spare minute of the day, and as she rides on a round of social calls, she deftly finishes the toe of a sock. The donkey moves at a slow, even pace. He seems to realize that if he stabs a hoof, his mistress drops a stitch.

worked well elsewhere. At the point, the judge read to the jury a statement from the defense admitting that the witness had written the railroad on September 11, 1917, calling attention to conditions of traffic at the crossing.

H. M. Proby, town treasurer and tax collector of Littleton and formerly clerk of the board of selectmen, identified a letter written August 21, 1917, by General Manager B. R. Pollock of the Boston and Maine, to the selectman in which it stated that the road proposed to improve conditions at the crossing by installing an automatic flagman and trim trees in the vicinity.

Judge Fosdick instructed the jury regarding the value of the letters as evidence in the case, in view of the fact as stated, that no effort was to be made by the plaintiff to prove that the driver of the car had any knowledge of the premises of the railroad officials to make the crossing more safe. The defense having admitted that the selectmen had written to the officials of the road complaining regarding traffic conditions at the crossing, the court stated that the testimony of the witness would be excluded, as was that of the previous witness on similar grounds.

James S. Allen, Jr., of Winchester, clerk of U. S. district court in Boston, was next called and testified that he was a passenger on the train on the Fitchburg road, that was involved in the fatal accident.

He said that the train, when it reached the crossing, stopped with a sudden jolt, that, however, was not violent enough to throw him from his feet. There were several short blasts of the whistle, he said.

He left the train, he said, and walked down the track toward what he found to be a burning auto, located partly on the outward-bound track, facing inward.

The witness testified to finding the dead body of a woman near the auto, and a little farther down the track toward Ayer, the body of a man.

"The night was dark and cloudy," the witness stated, "and the train was running rather faster than usual, as it was down-grade and I understood was trying to make up time. The train was a heavy one."

The witness told of helping dispose

Water Rates Increased

The mayor then read an ordinance introduced by Commissioner Salmon providing for a 10 per cent. increase in water rates beginning June 1. In detail, it was as follows:

Ordinance, regulating water rates for the consumption of water in the city of Lowell.

Be it ordained by the municipal council of the city of Lowell, as follows:

Section 1. That on and after the first day of June, 1920, there shall be charged as rates for the consumption of water in the city of Lowell, sold by the water works department of said city, the prices hereinafter set forth:

Section 2. All metered services shall be at the rate of twenty-one cents per hundred cubic feet of water as recorded on the meters in each building served with water by said department, in which a meter is installed. Nevertheless, on such premises where meters record a yearly consumption of less than 5000 cubic feet of water there shall be charged a minimum amount of $10.00 per annum, per meter.

Section 3. The rate charged to takers of water in buildings served with water by said department in which no meter is installed shall be not less than twelve dollars ($12) per annum for each and every sink or wash basin or other basin into which water is deposited by means of a faucet or hose, seven dollars ($7) per annum for each and every water closet installed therein the sum of four dollars ($4) per annum.

Section 4. There shall be allowed for prompt payment of all water bills within thirty days from the date of the rendering of the bill, a discount of five per cent. (5 per cent.)

Section 5. No person, firm, association or corporation shall receive from the water works department of the city of Lowell water or water service except at the rates and charges herein provided.

Following the first reading of the ordinance the mayor read a communication from W. N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, in which it was stated that that organization approved and recommended the increase provided for in Commissioner Salmon's ordinance.

Commissioner Marchand asked Commissioner Salmon how much the department would gain if it omitted the five per cent. discount provided in the ordinance for prompt payment of bills.

Mr. Salmon thought it would amount to approximately $13,000.

Commissioner Marchand: "Then it seems to me that we should have a lower rate and do away with the discount. Only those people who happen to have money on hand in time to pay the bill before the expiration of 30 days get the benefit of the discount."

Commissioner Salmon said that the discount provision was not intended to embarrass people, but rather to insure prompt payment of bills. Other corporations use this method, he said.

Otherwise, the department would be burdened with a heavy expense in attempting to collect its bills.

Mayor Thompson expressed the opinion that the discount was the greatest and cheapest collection agency that the city could employ. He said that while the department might save $13,000 by doing away with the discount, it would probably lose that much in the course of a year trying to collect its bills by other methods.

Commissioner Murphy said that he was in sympathy with the ordinance as proposed by Commissioner Salmon but that he hoped local landholders would not take advantage of its passage by increasing rents.

The ordinance was then read again for a second time.

It was then adopted by a vote of 10 to 2.

by title and on the roll call was passed to be ordained by a unanimous vote.

Refunds License Money

The council then passed a vote authorizing the city auditor to issue a warrant upon the city treasurer for the payment of $405.18 to Catherine Gallagher, administratrix of the estate of the late James E. Gallagher, said sum being a refund of a portion of the license fee which Mr. Gallagher had paid last May. He died on Oct. 24, 1919, and inasmuch as his business was not carried on after that date, a claim was put in for a refund of a proportionate share of the fee covering the period from October to May 1, 1920.

City Solicitor William D. Regan said that he had received a communication from the treasurer and receiver-general of the state, intimating that the city would be refunded one-fourth of the amount it pays the heirs of Mr. Gallagher. The sum authorized in the vote was charged to the claims appropriation.

At the request of the city auditor, a vote authorizing the auditor to issue a warrant on the city treasurer for the payment of bills outstanding against the water department during the months of May, June and July, was passed. The money will be appropriated from the general treasury fund and restored as receipts of the water department come in.

A contract between the Cawley Coal company and the purchasing agent for the supplying of sewer pipe for the sewer department, dated April 30, was approved.

A similar contract between the same parties, for the supplying of 400 barrels, more or less, of Portland cement, at $2.08 per barrel with a 15 cent rebate for each bag returned in good condition, was also approved.

Following the approval of monthly bills the council adjourned at 11:05 until next Tuesday at 10 a. m.

War Orders to Atlantic Fleet

ing was ever done so systematically as nothing is being done now."

In opening his address to the officers, the president said:

"Admiral Mayo and gentlemen: I have not come here with malice prepense to make a speech, but I have come here to have a look at you and to say things that perhaps may be intimately said and, even though the company is large, said in confidence."

"This is an unprecedented war and, therefore, it is a war in one sense for amateurs. Nobody ever before conducted a war like this and therefore nobody can pretend to be a professional in a war like this. Here are two great navies—not to speak of the others associated with us—our own and the British, outnumbering by a very great margin the navy to which we are opposed and yet casting about for a way in which to use our superiority and our strength."

"Now, somebody has got to think this war out. Somebody has got to think out the way not only to fight the submarine but to do something different from what we are doing."

"We are hunting hornets all over the farm and biting the nest alone. None of us knows how to go to the nest and crush it and yet I despair of hunting for hornets all over the sea when I know where the nest is and know that the nest is breeding hornets as fast as I can find them. I am willing for my part—and I know you are willing because I know the stuff you are made of—I am willing to sacrifice half the navy, Great Britain and we have together, to crush that nest, because if we crush it, the war is on. I have come here to say that I do not care where it comes from. I do not care whether it comes from the youngest officer or the oldest, but I want the officers of this navy to have the distinction of saying how this war is going to be won."

"I am willing to make any sacrifice for that. I mean any sacrifice of time or anything else. I am ready to put myself at the disposal of any officer in the navy who thinks he knows how to run this war. I will not undertake to tell you whether he does or not, because I know that I do not, but I will undertake to put him in communication with those who can find out whether his idea will work or not. I have the authority to do that and will do it with the greatest pleasure."

Distinction to Die Under Flag

"I wish that I could think and had the brains to think in the terms of marine warfare, because I would feel then that I was figuring out the future history of the political freedom of mankind. I do not see how any man can look at the flag of the United States and fall having his mind crowded with reminiscences of the number of unselfish men, seeking no object of their own, the advantage of no dynasty, the advantage of no group of privileges people, but the advantage of his fellow men, who have died under the folds of that beautiful emblem. I wonder if men who do die under it realize the distinction they have."

"There is a distinction in the privilege and I for my part am sorry to play so peaceful a part in the business as I myself am obliged to play, and I conceive it a privilege to come and look at you men who have the other conceive it a privilege to come and tell me or tell anybody you want to tell how this thing can be better done; and we will thank God that we have got men of originaive brains among us."

Time to Try Something New

"We have got to throw tradition to the winds."

"As I have said, gentlemen, I take it for granted that nothing that I say here will be repeated and therefore I am going to say this: Every time we have suggested anything to the British admiralty the reply has come back that virtually amounted to this, that it had never been done that way, and I felt like saying, 'Well, nothing was ever done so systematically as nothing is being done now.' Therefore, I should like to see something unusual happen, something that was never done before, and inasmuch as the things that are being done to you were never done before, don't you think it is worth while to try something that was never done before against those who are doing them to you?"

"There is no other way to win, and the whole principle of this war is the king of things that ought to hearten and stimulate America. America is the prize amateur nation of the world. Germany is the prize professional nation of the world. Now, when it comes to doing new things and doing them well, I will back the amateur against the professional every time. He knows so little about it that he is fool enough to try the right thing. The men that do not know the danger are the rashest men."

Drop the Word "Prudent"

"Please leave out of your vocabulary altogether the word 'prudent.' Do not stop to think about what is prudent for a moment. Do the thing that is audacious to the utmost point of risk and daring, because that is exactly the thing that the other side does not understand, and you will win by the audacity of method when you cannot win by circumspection and prudence."

"I think that there are willing ears to hear this in the American navy and the American army because that is the kind of folks we are. We get tired of the old ways and covet the new ones."

"I am not discouraged for a moment, particularly because we have not even begun, and, without saying anything in disparagement of those with whom we are associated in the war, I do expect things to begin. If they do not American history will have changed its course; the American army and navy will have changed their character. There will have to come a new tradition into a service which does not do new and audacious and successful things."

It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinarily mercuric iodine is far better. It literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drug store and tonight spread on enough to completely cover the face; remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared.

Rough, blotchy, pimply skin, also common at this season, may be entirely gotten rid of by this same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful.—Adv.

LAWRENCE STRIKE ENDS

Practically All of the Stationary Engineers Returned to Work Today.

LAWRENCE, May 11.—Practically all of the stationary engineers in local textile plants who struck last Thursday for a wage increase returned to work this morning in accordance with a vote taken at strike headquarters yesterday afternoon.

While it was said that the demands of the men had not been granted, union officials intimated that an increase was expected to be announced soon to go into effect on June 1. During the few days of the strike the mills continued in operation with substitutes at the boilers.

"BLUEBEARD" CONFESSES NINTH WIFE MURDER

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—The confessed bigamist-murderer sentenced here to life imprisonment under the name of J. P. Watson yesterday afternoon, according to District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwing, told that official of the murder of a ninth woman victim and stated his true name was Dan Holden and that he was a native of Arkansas.

The ninth murder was that of Eleanor Frazier, whom Holden admitted he had drowned in the Spokane river, above the falls, near the city of Spokane.

Holden was quoted as saying he had married the Frazier woman in Seattle a year ago and "bar" pushed her into the river and thought she had been carried over the falls and crushed on the rocks below."

This account was taken to clear up the mystery surrounding the tale of a woman known previously to officers only as "Eleanor." They had obtained information concerning her from papers found in his possession. Holden declined to state in just what part of Arkansas he had been born and reared. He seemed desirous of protecting relatives, officers stated, and would say only that he was a member of "a respectable family."

Advises Ordinary Buttermilk for Wrinkles and Enlarged Pores

This Good Looking Young Woman Uses Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage With Fingers Before Bedding All That Is Necessary

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve skin and remove blemishes, wrinkles and ugly sallowness is a grand mother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms. Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at Carter & Sherburne Co. and Fred Howard's, 107 Central St., or at any first class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's Buttermilk Cream."

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream, gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth. Howard Bros., Chemical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

SEN. WALSH SPEAKS

Criticizes President's Stand on the League of Nations

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Senator Walsh yesterday said "The president's ultimatum regarding what should be done with the treaty at the democratic convention will not change a single vote in the senate and the Knox peace resolution will undoubtedly pass with as much democratic support as was given the lodge reservations." Senator Walsh declined to predict what would be the attitude of the Massachusetts democratic delegation on the president's utterance. He would make no comment except to say "My opinion regarding the league and the treaty is absolutely unchanged and I made my position on it clear when the measure was before the senate." As Senator Walsh was then bitterly opposed to the treaty except with the league reservations and strongly denounced the treaty in the form it came from the president, it is a pretty safe guess that the Massachusetts delegation at San Francisco will not support a candidate at the convention whose views of the treaty run along the same lines as the president's.

TO DISSOLVE FRENCH FEDERATION OF LABOR

PARIS, May 11.—The French cabinet today instructed the minister of justice to open proceedings against the general federation of labor with a view to the dissolution of the organization which has been supporting the strike of the French railway men by calling other strikes.

In spite of the appeal to the Electrical Union by the General Federation of Labor yesterday, electric supply throughout the city seemed not to be affected today. Subway trains, street cars and auto buses were run, volunteers taking the places of the few men who failed to report for work.

NEW BATTERY B

Smoker Tonight in Interest of Unit Recruiting

A smoker, open to those men who already signed up as members of Battery B of the 103d field artillery as well as to all others interested in the unit, will be held this evening at the state armory in Westford street. Invitations have been sent to former members of various military organizations and a large attendance is expected. New men wishing to join the outfit will be given an opportunity to do so this evening.

Recruiting for the new battery will continue all week and it is expected that physical examinations will begin in a few days. As soon as these examinations are over and 121 men have been certified eligible for battery duty, they will be mustered into the service and Capt. W. C. MacIntyre, battery commander, plans suitable formalities to mark the occasion.

Following is a list of the men who have become honorary members of the new outfit: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Allan C. Sargent of Grantville, Jude C. Wadleigh, Andrew P. Roach, Representative Henry A. Schuch, Jr., Humphrey O'Sullivan, Joseph A. Legare, James O'Sullivan, Michael J. Sharkey, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson, Superintendent Gerald Cahill of the U. S. Cartridge Co., Hon. Erson B. Barlow, James E. Lyle, Daniel J. Cosgrove, Capt. Joseph P. Molloy, Capt. Royal P. White, William N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, and Henry McAlvin.

$500 MORE FOR NEAR EAST FUND

The Lowell fund for near east relief, of which Charles H. Clogston of the Mechanics savings bank is the treasurer, has been credited with $500 more, as a result of contributions sent to the state office in Boston by people who heard members of the "flying squadron" of the national committee speak in the city on Sunday and Thursday of last week. It is expected that further donations will be sent to the local treasurer by employees of the cotton mills who heard the same speakers at the Thursday noon shop meetings.

This pathetic little note has been given out by the state committee, as one of several received with special contributions this week: "The enclosed $3 is in part a sum of money saved in five cent pieces by a little boy more than 40 years ago. His mother kept the little hoard with a lock of his hair when the little fellow died, and the niece who is helping settle her affairs thought that the best way to use the money would be to help some little orphan in the near east."

In China, a man can obtain a haircut, a head shave, a face shave and also have his shoulders and back massaged, all for less than 5 cents.

ASKS AMERICANS TO VISIT MEXICO

Invited to Engage in Trade With Mexicans, by Agent Tamez

Assured Protection and Facilities for Full Success of Undertakings

NOGALES, Ariz., May 11.—Cordial invitation to foreign business men, especially Americans to come to Mexico and engage in trade and to Mexican expatriates to return to their native land, was extended today in a statement issued by Emiliano Tamez, commercial agent for the liberal constitutional party at Nogales. He said he was speaking for the revolutionary government.

"Foreign business men can come to Mexico with full confidence that in all sections controlled by the new government they will enjoy all assurances, protection and facilities they may require for the full success of their undertakings," he said. "The rebellion initiated by the government of Sonora, in the legitimate defense of its sovereignty, offers to the Mexican nation a great example of virility and energy, which of necessity has brought an echo of sympathy and frank adhesion from most of the states of the republic."

"While it is true that this rebellion, in its incipency and in its development, has of necessity had a military character, it is also true that it is essentially a civil movement, supported by the public opinion of the entire country, the object of which is the defense of principles and right threatened by President Carranza."

"I have the satisfaction of informing the republic as a fact of vital importance, that all the chiefs in the present movement are capable of giving all kinds of guarantees to foreigners and nationals alike and their desire is no other than to impart strict justice to all classes and political creeds."

CIVIL SUIT IN POLICE COURT

Civil suit was started this morning in police court, before Judge Enright in the case of Oliver J. David vs. Fred Morrisette and Pierre R. Landry, trustee. The plaintiff claims that on or about the 15th day of October, 1919, the defendant had in his possession money received from the plaintiff to the amount of $200 and that the defendant owes him that sum, the money received by the defendant, for the use of the plaintiff. The defendant claims that at the time of the issuance of the plaintiff's writ upon him, he was the maker of a negotiable promissory note payable to Morrisette and which was dated July 28, 1917, for the sum of $645. The defendant also claims that he has paid on that note $291, thus leaving due $354, and that he did not have any other "goods, effects or credits in his hands or possession."

Strike at Holyoke Spreads

HOLYOKE, May 11.—About 50 unskilled employees of independent paper mills today joined the strike of the so-called Unity of Workers, comprising the unskilled workers of the American Writing Paper Co., who quit yesterday to enforce demands for an increase of wages from 58 to 70 cents an hour. The strikers claim that the total number out is 650. The strike does not affect Eagle Lodge of paper makers, members of which are doing the work of the strikers so effectively, it is said, that thus far little inconvenience has been felt by the mills.

Coaching From Bench Prohibited

BOSTON, May 11.—Coaching from the players' bench is prohibited in the American league. President Ban Johnson in a formal order sent to all clubs in the league and received by the Red Sox today, announced that a player removed from the bench by an umpire hereafter is automatically suspended for three days.

Coaching from the bench, Johnson declares, "has been carried to an extreme by two clubs in the organization this spring, and has become a positive nuisance. The 'riding' and abuse of visiting players is unsportsmanlike and does not belong in baseball."

ZIMMERMAN JURY AT SCENE OF SHOOTING

SPRINGFIELD, May 11.—The jury in the trial of Miss Jennie Zimmerman, charged with the murder of her cousin, Dr. Henry Zimmerman, visited the scene of the shooting today. The shooting occurred in Perry street, where it is alleged, Miss Zimmerman, approached her cousin while he was talking with two women friends and after a short conversation, drew a revolver and fired four shots.

On the jury's return, District Attorney Wright opened the case for the commonwealth, recounting the events at the time of the alleged murder and saying that he would try to prove that Miss Zimmerman took her cousin's life "with extreme atrocity and cruelty." He said that he would produce a confession by the defendant, made shortly after the tragedy, confirming the facts set forth by the prosecution. He said the state would seek to show that the defendant had made statements indicating that she intended to shoot Dr. Zimmerman.

The first witness was Miss Evelyn Feldman of Manchester, N. H., who testified that she with her sister and Dr. Zimmerman were riding in the young women's automobile the day of the shooting. They had stopped to allow Miss Feldman to visit a store. When she came out she saw Miss Zimmerman talking with the doctor. The shooting followed. She was standing so close to the doctor that she was slightly wounded in the finger.

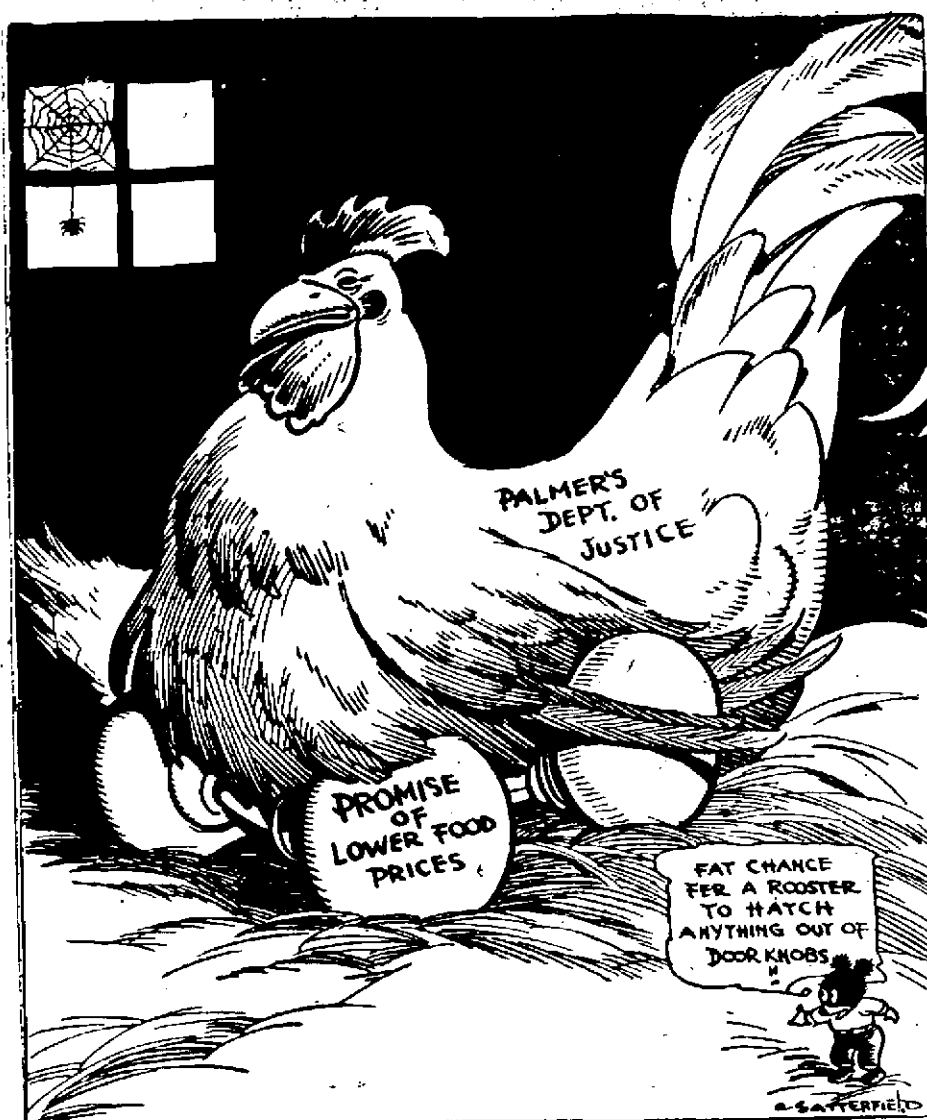

BILLERICA POST

Legion Men Make Plans for Memorial Day

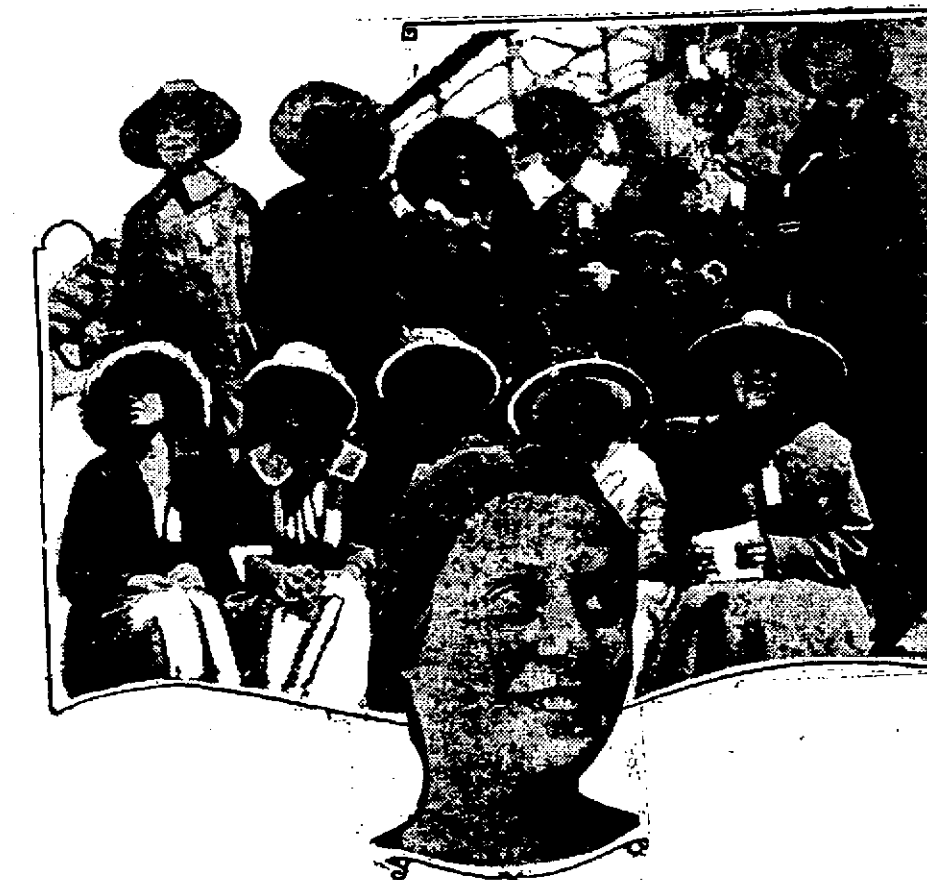

A meeting of the Billerica post of the American Legion was held last Thursday evening and one of the distinguishing features was the vote of the members to contribute $5 towards the fund for the decoration of the graves of their comrades in France. Other business included the appointment of a committee to confer with the U. S. A. R. in making arrangements for Legion members to turn out for parade on Memorial day. For the membership drive the men present agreed to bring in ex-service men at the next meeting. The Legion post of that town has received a beautiful map from John Jacob Rogers as a gift to the ex-service men.

The members voted to send delegates to the Legion convention to be held in Marthoro May 15, and to make special efforts that the drive for funds for their new clubhouse might be successful. They agreed to arrange for entertainments, dances and other social activities to raise the required money. Accordingly they elected the officers for the dancing party to be held May 15th in the town hall. Daniel McSweeney was elected general manager; Richard Condon, assistant general manager; Edward Barton, floor director; Joseph Fairbrother, chief aid; and other members of the Legion as aids.

There were in the United States in 1915 nearly 42,000,000 church members, of whom about 35,500,000 were 13 years of age and over.

TOO BUSY FOR GODFATHERING NOW!

MEXICO—One little Mexican baby would probably tell you, if it could talk, that President Carranza makes a mighty fine godfather. Minus his uniform and without the assistance of his horse or troops, he played the part to the child of one of his trusted adherents, Colonel Paulino Fuentes, general manager of the National railway. The chief executive of Mexico seemed to enjoy his "job," judging from the smile on his face. This picture was taken before the revolt occupied all of Carranza's time.

An Echo of the Great War

This sturdy youngster was far too young to take part in the World War, but he certainly had the makings of a good soldier. His mother is Mrs. J. Rathjen, 355 Prospect Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., and she says that for over two years she has used Father John's Medicine in her family both for the youngster and the other members of the family.

with excellent results. Mrs. Rathjen says she "thinks there is nothing better," and a few of her friends to whom she has recommended the medicine have had the same experience. This pure, old-fashioned, family medicine is nourishing, wholesome and strengthening. It has superior food value and is rich in the very elements which make flesh and strength. BOSTON, May 11.—The Red Sox, opening a series with the Cleveland club today in which the American league leadership is at stake, will be without the pitching assistance of Walter Hoyt, the team's youthful star.

Municipal Council Unanimously Votes to Increase Local Water Rates 30 Per Cent. on June 1

NEW ORDINANCE IS ACCEPTED

Minimum Consumption Remains at Old Figure of 5000 Cubic Feet

Long Threatened Act Tends to Make Department Self-Sustaining

Following several weeks' discussion and evolving from the pressing needs of the water department for greater revenue if it is to be a self-sustaining enterprise in fact as well as theory, the municipal council at its regular weekly meeting this morning unanimously voted to increase local water rates 30 per cent, effective June 1.

An ordinance to this effect, repealing the present ordinance establishing water rates, was read twice and passed to be obtained. It will become an accepted part of the city's ordinances 10 days hence.

The new rates provide that all metered service shall be at the rate of 21 cents per 100 cubic feet of water. Persons using less than 5000 cubic feet in any one year will be charged a minimum rate of $10.50 per year. Those using more than 5000 cubic feet will be charged for excess at the rate of 21 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Those water takers who have no meter in their buildings will be charged a minimum rate of $12 per year. This will entitle them to the use of two fixtures. If they have more than two fixtures in the building, 47 will be charged for each sink, 45 for each water closet and $1 for each bath tub.

A discount of five per cent will be allowed on bills paid within 30 days after their presentation.

There was no direct opposition to the passage of the ordinance, although Commissioner George E. Marchand inquired if a further saving could not be effected by eliminating the discount. It was pointed out that the cost of collecting bills if discount were not given would probably equal what the

Body of Elise Marchand Found by Wife in Cellar of Home in Clifton Street

Elise Marchand, 44 years of age, committed suicide in the cellar of his home, 44 Clifton street, today. His body was found at 12:30 hanging from a beam by his wife. Medical Examiner Thomas R. Smith was called and after an examination and investigation pronounced death caused by suicide.

Marchand had been ill for the past five weeks and had been unable to work. According to his wife, he had been very despondent over his illness but had never mentioned suicide. This morning, he arose at his usual hour and during the forenoon worked about the house. His wife was busy with housework and did not notice his disappearance until some time after 12 o'clock. She went into the cellar and there found his body. He is survived by six children.

LOWELL TEXTILE WAGES

Treasurers Meet in Boston Today—Belief That 15 Per Cent Offer Will Be Made

That local mill operatives will be granted a 15 per cent increase in wages, is the opinion of a local mill agent, who stated this morning that although the settling of wage matters lies with the treasurers of the textile mills, he believes the latter will follow the footsteps of the Fall River treasurers, who yesterday, in reply to the demand of the United Textile Workers of America for a 17 1/2 per cent increase offered a 15 per cent increase.

Treasurers of the local cotton mills met in Boston today, and it is believed the meeting was for the purpose of discussing the wage question as it pertains to local mills, but the result of the meeting could not be learned.

It will be remembered that last December when the Fall River textile operatives went out on strike after being

Salvation Army Launches Its Campaign for $20,000 in Lowell

Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night With $1588 Reported Already Subscribed

The Salvation Army drive for $20,000 in Lowell officially opened last night at a rousing meeting at the Community club in Dutton street at which informal reports showed that $1588 has already come in, with practically no organized solicitation under way.

Of this amount, Edward Rimes, chairman of the special gifts committee, announced a total of $1000, including the following:

Dudley L. Pace $100.00
G. S. Motley 100.00
Mary G. Morrison 100.00
Friend 100.00

Reports showed that team organizations are ready for the drive and this minute are spreading their canvassing drag net over the city, appealing to every man and woman of Lowell to substantially recognize the type and wide scope of Christianity being preached by this sacrificial organization.

FLETCHER CASE RESUMED

Superior Court Jury Hears Testimony Regarding Fatal Accident on Ayer Road

The case of Edwin L. Fletcher of this city, who, as administrator, is suing the Boston and Maine railroad for a total of $31,000 damages as a result of an auto accident at a grade crossing on the state road between Littleton and Ayer on October 21, 1917, was resumed before Judge Pordick and a jury in the superior court here this morning.

Charles P. Watts, secretary of the Littleton board of trade, was the first witness. He identified, at the request of Attorney Charles H. Donahue of Boston, counsel for the plaintiff, several letters received previous to the accident from the superintendent of the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine relative to conditions at the crossing where the deaths occurred. The letters were in answer to complaints from Mr. Watts regarding conditions at the crossing. In one of the replies, the superintendent stated that he understood arrangements had been made to install a form of "automatic flagman" that had

WAR ORDERS TO ATLANTIC FLEET

Wilson's Hitherto Unpublished Instructions to Navy Made Public by Daniels

Said "Throw Tradition to Wind and Strike Word Prudent From Vocabularies"

"Do the Thing That is Audacious to the Utmost Point of Risk and Daring"

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson's hitherto unpublished war instructions to the officers of the Atlantic fleet, given in person on the quarterdeck of the flagship Pennsylvania on Aug. 11, 1917, and bidding them "throw tradition to the wind," "strike the word prudent from their vocabularies" and "do the thing that is audacious to the utmost point of risk and daring" were made public today by Secretary Daniels.

The president spoke as commander-in-chief of the navy at a time when the German submarine menace was uncurbed. In laying the text of his remarks before the senate naval investigating committee, Secretary Daniels said they showed "the bold and vigorous" policy the president had outlined for the navy.

"Do not stop to think what is prudent for a moment," the president said. "You will win by the audacity method when you cannot win by circumspection and prudence."

"I think that there are willing ears to hear this in the American navy and the American army, because that is the kind of folks we are."

"There will have to come a new tradition into a service which does not do new and audacious and successful things."

"The president also expressed his dissatisfaction with progress then being made toward crushing the submarine campaign."

"We are hunting hornets all over the farm and letting the nest alone," he said. "I am willing, for my part, and I know that you are willing, because I know the stuff you are made of—I am willing to sacrifice half the navy—Great Britain and we together have to crush that nest because if we crush it the war is won."

The British admiralty had met American suggestions that "it never had been done," the president said, adding:

"And I felt like saying, 'Well, nothing is impossible.'"

ASQUITH HOME RULE AMENDMENT BEATEN

LONDON, May 11.—An amendment to the Irish Home rule bill offered by ex-Premier Asquith, providing one parliament instead of two for Ireland, was defeated in the house of commons this evening, after a short debate, by a vote of 259 to 55.

Mr. Asquith's amendment included county option for Ulster for a period limited to six years, as proposed in 1914.

LONDON, May 11. (Canadian Press)—Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster unionist leader, writing yesterday in the Morning Post regarding anti-British activities in the United States, says:

"I have had hundreds of letters from America complaining of the folly of the British government in making an effort to counteract anti-British propaganda carried on there on a large and systematic scale. New York is the headquarters of this propaganda, which is designed to create ill-will and anti-British feeling not only in America, but in India and Egypt."

"Yet the British government apparently is convinced that a policy of tactfulness is the most dignified and effective one."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Jenny Be Good," a story of modern life with its usual quota of modern complications, features the first program at the Merrimack Square theatre and brings once more to the fore the special talents of Mary Miles Minter, a fascinating sort of misadventurer of the title of one of the screen's most delightful young women.

The story deals with a little girl, Jenny Be Good, who is cared for by her old grandmother. She meets and eventually marries Royal Henshaw, the son of parents who have social aspirations. She is used in the hidden game. Then the complications begin. But the unsuspecting country girl finds romance—but it must be left to her who views the picture to discover where and how she found it.

Miriam Cooper plays the leading part in this picture, which is directed by E. A. Walsh. Vincent Serrano is the man who seeks to use her as bait in the hidden game. Serrano is a polished villain.

"Eye in Exile," with Charlotte Walker, will be liked. There is an exciting combination there, a "butterfly" condemned to the country through the bankruptcy of her speculator father, a brute of a man with a thin coat of civilization—that's Tom Sinitich—a writer, a victim of a wife with a band in India, that's the combination that leads into a near murder, and happily out of it.

The comedy is a roarer and the third episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery" shows the story getting rapidly under way. The news reel contains many of the latest news features of the day.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A sketch that opens up with all the earmarks of a sure enough hair-raising thriller and closes in a less tense but very entertaining manner is "In the Dark," labelled a mystery melodrama, dramatic novelty and underlined as the feature of this week's vaudeville at B. F. Keith's theatre.

The scene is laid in the corridor of a small hotel in a Connecticut town. The time is not clearly evident but probably around 1910. As the curtain rises, the melodrama gets down to business at once and a shot is heard. A woman screams, rushes from her room and from it comes a man. The excitement soon brings the hotel manager, the hotel maid and several other guests. Among them is a judge who happens to be staying at the hotel on the eve of a very important murder trial.

The judge immediately begins investigating. One by one, circumstantial evidence plus the crime on the various guests and people connected with the hotel is brought to light. And then it is explained—but that's best enjoyed when actually seen and heard—the denouement. This is a strictly original and well worth seeing.

Harry Anzer and Netta Paucker are two of the funniest people seen here in some time. Harry is small, affects white hair and is a genuine comedian. Netta is stately, brunette and not at all afraid of working hard. Together they brook after shot of fun bullets that merge deeply. Harry's song about the Argentinians, the Portuguese, the Armenians and the Greeks is a lesson in Americanization in itself.

Dorothy Brenner is a dainty little lady, blonde and possessing eyes that sparkle and gleam continuously. In addition, she has a voice that one would never hear from her "widow" number last evening. She is comely, and her delineation of the youngster who was "going to hell" because she was "in wrong" with the rest of her family, got a big hand. The only jettison one may register is that Miss Brenner is a bit stilly with her numbers.

Sylvia Loyd & Co. have an animal act far and beyond the merits of most offerings of the kind. White mice, dogs of them, secure in the scene of effect of the act, and rarely has so beautiful a setting been presented here. An intelligent French poodle adds much to the entertainment quality of the offering.

Harry Masters and Jack Kratt are dancers from head to toe. Even while they sing their legs are in motion and their portrayal of dancers of the past, present and future lifts the act out of the routine of such affairs.

The Geraldine, rhapsodic serenaders, and the Four Castling Cammells are excellent in their respective lines. A Bruce Bonnie picture, "Tonic of the Day" with the Kinegram News. Weekly round out a thoroughly worth-while bill.

OWL THEATRE

There's a big bill and a good bill too, at the Owl theatre this week. Two

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two spoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, sebum and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

MORE RETURN TO WORK AT NEW BEDFORD

NEW BEDFORD, May 11.—The Manufacturers' association in a statement today claimed a gain of 331 looms in operation over the number operated yesterday which in turn showed a gain of 4600 looms over the previous week. At strike headquarters, although it was stated the situation was "well in hand," it was admitted that the number of weavers at work was slightly larger than on Monday. The manufacturers say "the operatives are rapidly awakening to the situation and the injustice that has been imposed upon them by the Loomfixers' union, on whose account the strike was declared."

Reports From Mexico Conflict

newspaper El Dictamen, a member of the Associated Press, bearing Monday's date, declared that Carranza, who was making an effort to reach Vera Cruz, had broken through the revolutionary lines and was standing at bay with 4000 men at San Marcos, 37 miles south of Puebla.

Roberto Cienega Carranza Captured
On the other hand, the revolutionary leaders along the border are still claiming that Carranza has been made a captive, naming the place of his capture a point near Apizaco in the state of Hidalgo. These reports, however, gave few details of the capture except to declare that the entire convoy was taken with the president, that three generals who were with him—Murguía, Orizaba and Barragán—had been executed and another general wounded.

It was added that Carranza had been ordered returned to Mexico City with all consideration and that none of his party was to be killed or mistreated. Even pre-supposing the accuracy of the reports that Carranza is still at liberty, his situation is precarious, according to the Vera Cruz advices. It is announced that government troops in Vera Cruz have deserted their commander, General Candido Aguilar, the governor of the state and gone over to the revolutionists, making that state apparently no longer a safe refuge for the president.

Report Aguilar Killed
In addition, revolutionary forces under Generals Hill and Trevino were reported closing in on Carranza near San Marcos. Other reports declared that General Aguilar, Carranza's son-in-law, had lost his life in the fighting between loyal forces and revolutionists in Vera Cruz state.

Mexico City dispatches report the situation as quiet with the troops of General Obregon in full possession. All Mexico, in fact, with the exception of a few localities, notably the states of Yucatan, Campeche and Chiapas, is declared to be in the hands of the revolutionists.

The overturn has been effected with little bloodshed, advices indicate.

MISS LEGGAT HAS BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Miss Frances Leggat, physical instructor for the girls at the high school, was very agreeably surprised this afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Colonial restaurant, by a group of eighteen girls of the school. Miss Myrtle Rooney, assistant instructor of calisthenics, and Miss Bertha Chapman, accompanist for the girls on their exhibition night, both had active parts in the preparations and the joviality of the event. The occasion was a surprise birthday party in honor of Miss Leggat.

To arrange matters that Miss Leggat should not know of the luncheon, one of the girls had previously invited her to have lunch with her alone. It was not until Miss Leggat was surrounded by her friends that she realized the purpose of the invitation. Throughout the luncheon she was the happy recipient of good wishes from the girls who freely expressed their sentiments of appreciation of her work at the school.

GEORGE LE GRAND HONORED BY FRIENDS

A number of friends from Lowell, Cambridge and Billerica gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George LeGrand in River street, Billerica, centre, last evening, to assist Mr. LeGrand in celebrating his 32nd birthday anniversary. There were about forty people in the party and each and every one assisted in making the affair an enjoyable one.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome silver electric percolator to Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand by John Hagerly in behalf of Cambridge friends. Another delegation from Cambridge presented Mrs. LeGrand with an electric iron, accompanied with the suggestion that it be used only for ironing purposes. Tim-

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peter, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with which might healing power as Peter's Ointment to sell at all druggists for 33 cents a large box."

Read this letter, written February 11, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.

"I know it because I got similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."

Is it any wonder I am happy!

Peter Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 3 inches across, 1 1/2 inches deep and I can walk. Never, never, will I be without Peter's again."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly,

Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y.

Prof. William Paul McCarthy, President of the Peter Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Contributed much to the success of the evening.

The party broke up at midnight with all thanking the happy couple for their hospitality and wishing them many more such enjoyable anniversaries.

SCHOOL KIDS ARE JOYFUL ALLIES OF UNDERPAID STRIKING TEACHERS

Teachers in many parts of the United States are striking, quitting and demanding larger pay. This group of men and women teachers in Newport, Ky., heads the striking instructors, who say that they cannot support themselves on the salaries they have been receiving. In the foreground some of the "victims" of the strike. The youngsters bear up bravely. They sympathize with their teachers, and anyhow, it is spring, and the backyards, vacant lots and playgrounds of Newport are filled with glad sounds. In New York city, teachers are fighting for relief, and many of them are seeking other employment. Children (one of them on right) have been aiding teachers by carrying placards on the street.

TAFT SCORES WILSON

Declares President is the Greatest Obstructionist in Washington

CHICAGO, May 11.—William Howard Taft yesterday scored President Wilson for his statement that the democratic party must stand for four square for the Versailles treaty in the coming campaign.

"Mr. Wilson is the greatest obstructionist in Washington," said Mr. Taft. "He desires to destroy all if he cannot get all."

COMMISSION ACT BEGINS TO BRISTLE

Amended so that the commission will have the right to summon witnesses and require the production of all books, records, contracts, etc., on file at city hall, the resolve introduced in the state senate last week by Senator Frank H. Putnam, providing for the appointment of a commission of 15 members by Mayor Thompson to study this city's charter needs, was passed by the house yesterday and will again go to the senate for concurrence in the amendments.

The amendments were designed by the local delegation to the state house. The portion of the resolve providing that the charter commission also look into the matter of establishing a finance commission here was dropped. It was also provided that the general rules of the legislature relative to city charters be suspended as far as this city is concerned until the commission makes its report next January. This means that there will be no opportunity on the part of interested citizens to petition for various forms of charter while the commission is doing its work.

PASTOR SCORES MODERN FASHIONS

"Although she may be a faithful church attendant, any girl who exposes herself by the lack of, or by the thinness of her clothing is lacking in common decency and modesty," said Rev. Charles P. Heaney, pastor of St. John's church, No. Chelmsford, on Sunday. The pastor branded modern dances as a disgrace to the community in which they occur.

Rev. Fr. Heaney said that unless some of the girls added a founce to their gowns and procured a shawl for their shoulders, he would not allow any more dances under the auspices of the parish or the societies connected with the church.

The pastor did not express a total dislike for dancing and said it might be included with the necessary pastimes but that it could not be tolerated when it became a disgrace to a community.

SOCIALISTS ARE AT ODDS

Chicago Delegates Object to "Conservative" Leaders and Their Platform

NEW YORK, May 11.—Shouting for the radicalism of German, French, Italian and Russian socialism, the Illinois delegation to the convention of the socialist party of America yesterday launched a concerted attack on "conservative" leaders and their platform demands for popular administration of private property "for the benefit of all."

J. Louis Engahl, Samuel H. Holland and William F. Kruse, all of Chicago, and the last two under sentences for violation of the war-time espionage act, captained the radical element's troops yesterday. When the "Hillquit platform" was submitted with the motion that it be adopted, Holland gained the floor amid a tumult of waving hands and shouts.

"I don't like this platform at all," he cried. "It contains nothing but nice phrases. We have had no opportunity to consider it. Yet Hillquit has the audacity to move its adoption. What are they trying to do, throw it down our throats?"

Hillquit sharply arraigned the casting of suspicion by one delegation upon another without concrete cause as an act of obstructionists instead of radicals. He said the delegates would find the platform submitted worthy of close attention, although "certain" beloved phrases are missing from it.

The convention finally voted on motion by Municipal Court Justice Jacob Panken of New York, which Hillquit declared acceptable, to constitute itself a committee of the whole to consider the platform today.

Before adjournment for the day, the convention set next Thursday afternoon for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president. Eugene V. Debs, now serving 10 years for violation of the espionage act, already has been proclaimed as the party's probable candidate for president.

Examinations may be taken in all of the large cities of New England. They are held in Boston every Tuesday. Persons desiring appointment are asked to send at once to the civil service commission, Washington, D. C., a properly completed application made out on form 364.

OFFER 15 P. C. INCREASE TO FALL RIVER WORKERS

FALL RIVER, May 11.—Cotton manufacturers of this city last night made an offer to textile operatives of a 15 per cent increase in wages, effective June 1. The offer, which was said to be voluntary, was made at a wage conference with the textile council and will be acted upon by the six unions affiliated with the council at meetings tomorrow night. About 32,000 operatives will be affected.

This was said to be the first time in the history of the cotton industry in this city that a general wage advance has been voluntarily offered by the manufacturers. The question of wage adjustments, however, had been under preliminary consideration for several weeks. The announcement of the offer was made through a joint statement and neither the manufacturers nor the union officials would make any comment.

PREVENTS SALE OF GERMAN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The shipping board, under a decree signed yesterday by Justice Bailey in the district supreme court, is perpetually enjoined from selling the 29 former German liners seized when the United States entered the war. An appeal in the case by the board was noted some time ago. Yesterday's decree resulted from a suit for an injunction brought by W. R. Hearst in his capacity as a taxpayer.

EVERYBODY IS DOING IT

Reason Landlord Gave for Raising Rent—Judge Refuses to Evict Tenants

NEW YORK, May 11.—Rent profiteers received a setback in the second district municipal court yesterday when Justice Scanlon refused the request of landlords for eviction warrants in 500 cases and granted the tenants a year's stay on the basis of their April rent. In each case the renters had refused to pay alleged increases.

When the owner of one apartment house who sought eviction of two tenants was asked by the court why he had raised the rents he said, "Why, everybody is doing it, and I don't see why I should not do it."

After refusing eviction warrants, Justice Scanlon told the landlord to "go back to the Frog Hollow section of the Bronx and tell the other landlords of the success you met with in this court."

COUNTY WILL FINANCE NEW COURT HOUSE

Special to The Sun.
STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—A bill putting upon Middlesex county the expense of a new court house in Malden was given a final reading in the house yesterday, after a motion to refer it to the next general court had been defeated.

Mr. Rice of Newton opposed the bill, on the ground that the present is not a good time for the county to erect any new buildings, an argument which prevailed in the case of a registry of deeds for Bristol county. He said the county has occupied for 10 years the building it is now proposed to purchase, the present owners having had the benefit of the rental for that period, and they now intend to unload on the state at prevailing prices for real estate. "The whole proposition," he declared, "is rotten from beginning to end."

Rep. Daggett of Somerville, defending the bill, said the building has not been properly heated for three years, and it has been necessary for court officers to wear overcoats in order to keep warm. Recently the rent was advanced from $4000 to $5500, and when the county commissioners demurred they were informed that if the increase was not paid within eight days the county furniture would be stored in the street.

Rep. Rice retorted that this was the only additional reason why the county should have refused to deal further with the present owners, to which Rep. Glazier of Hudson replied that the present bill gives the county commissioners an opportunity to rid themselves of the present owners and put up a building of their own.

Senator Pearson of Lowell was unsuccessful today in his effort to bring about an investigation designed to determine if motor busses or jitneys are more economical than trolley cars for transportation purposes.

In the attempt to bring about such an inquiry, he moved that the senate substitute for an adverse report resolve directing the department of public utilities to make the examination in question. On a voice vote it was defeated and the adverse report accepted.

SEN. LODGE SELECTED

Named Temporary Chairman of Republican Convention —To Sound Keynote

CHICAGO, May 11.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, republican senate leader and author of the Lodge reservations to the League of Nations covenant, will sound the keynote of the coming presidential campaign at the republican national convention in Chicago on June 1.

The committee on arrangements yesterday selected Senator Lodge for temporary chairman and voted to recommend to the convention that some one else be chosen permanent chairman to relieve Mr. Lodge of the strain of directing the entire convention. Four years ago Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio filled both positions.

The committee's recommendation, according to several committeemen, probably will pave the way for the election of ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana as permanent chairman.

Lafayette B. Gleason of New York, secretary of the last two republican conventions, was again chosen temporary secretary. Six assistants, three men and three women also were named. They are Mrs. Guy Gannett of Maine, Miss Jeanette A. Hyde of Utah, Mrs. Chloe Adair Morgan of Kansas, Richard J. Deamish of Pennsylvania, Harry Giovanelli of Kentucky and Fred Wilson of Missouri.

Edward P. Thayer of Indiana, sergeant-at-arms of the national committee, was appointed temporary sergeant-at-arms of the convention with Guy Howard of Minneapolis and McGinnis Hatfield of West Virginia as assistants.

Maj. Gen. James A. Ryan was named chief doorkeeper. His assistants will all be ex-service men. Gen. Ryan was Gen. Pershing's chief of staff on the Mexican expedition and later commanded two officers' training camps at Fort Sheridan.

The committee selected Gen. L. Hart of Wisconsin as official reporter, and Dr. John Dill Robertson of Chicago as chief of the medical staff. The ushers will be ex-service men under the direction of Capt. Knowlton Ames. Addison G. Proctor of St. Joseph.

ACTION ON 2.75 BEER POSTPONED BY SENATE

BOSTON, May 11.—The state senate yesterday, on motion of Senator Wells, postponed until next Monday consideration of Gov. Coolidge's veto of the 2.75 per cent. beer bill.

Unofficially, when interviewed after the session, several senators stated that it had been generally agreed that it would be well to lay the matter over until the United States supreme court had rendered an opinion on the constitutionality of the Volstead act. The supreme court adjourned until May 17.

By a standing vote of 25 to 1 the senate ordered to a third reading the resolve for the appointment of a commission to consider holding an international exposition in or near Boston in 1925 in commemoration of the landing of the Pilgrims. A motion to suspend the rules and pass the measure to be engrossed was carried over opposition by Senator Reed of Taunton. Senator Reed moved reconsideration and his motion was placed in the orders for today.

OLD RIVALS MEET HERE TOMORROW AFTERNOON

One of the two big games on Lowell high school's baseball schedule this year comes tomorrow afternoon at Spaulding park, with Lawrence high as the opposing club. A return game is scheduled in the down-river city on June 2. The local boys were given a long, hard workout yesterday in preparation for the game, and although another practice session was on the books for today, it will be nothing more than batting practice and an easy workout.

Orday and Liston will be Coach Donald's choice for battery work with the rest of the positions filled by the same men as in former games. O'Hare, back in good standing, will be left and with McAdams in center, and Hickson in right, the outfield will be fast and sure.

Cochran, Sidley of Lawrence and four of his players watched Lowell lose to Commerce at the park last Friday, but outside of the fact that the local boys were beaten, they could not have taken much knowledge home with them.

It is a long established fact that Lowell and Lawrence would rather beat each other than any teams on either schedule. Little is known here of the down-river team this year, but it will be full of fight—all Lawrence athletes are.

High school authorities are making a concerted drive to get the student body out to the game in large numbers.

SAYS DALY IS LOGICAL OPPONENT FOR WILDE

"It gives me a big laugh, almost makes me scream to read Jimmy Wilde's persistent challenge for a return bout with Jack Sharkey. The latter outpointed the British flyweight champion in his American debut, but do many people know that my protégé, Frankie Daly, knocked Sharkey out in four rounds, and beat him a couple of other times? 'Tis a matter of record. Which all goes to prove that the boy the Englishman should tackle before going back home is Daly."

In these words George Lawrence, the Australian sportsman, who is handling Daly's affairs in America, expressed himself in a letter sent out regarding a match with Wilde. George says:

"Daly has proven his worth time and time again to a titular match, having recently beaten Pat Moore in Boston. Previous to the Moore match, Daly took Joe Burman and Frankie Mason into camp. This happened shortly upon his arrival from France where he 'boxed' for Uncle Sam in the trenches. He holds two decisions over Joe Lynch."

"If Wilde doesn't care for Daly's games, Lawrence says, his boy is ready at a moment's notice to go in a ring with Pete Herman, bantamweight title-holder. 'It is all very well to challenge Herman and keep at him,' declared Lawrence, 'but he crawls into a shell when he hears the mention of Daly's name and stays in there until someone speaks about something else. I claim that Herman is no legitimate champion, and I will bet all I have and can scrape up, that he cannot make the weight, but Daly can make 116 pounds at 2 o'clock.'"

Talking about Herman's weight, Lawrence said he was glad to see the Philadelphia boxing authorities take up the weight question in caring for the fight. "I wish that other light centers would take up this momentous question and thrash it out once and for all. It has been a crime, the way some of these so-called contenders have gone around faking their weights. Some seldom weigh in for a fight."

Daly is a hard hitter, and gives the crowd a run for their money. Several promoters are anxious to get a Daly-Sharkey bout, but Lawrence is holding off on this until he is to connect with either Wilde or Herman. Lynch comes next and then Sharkey. "Daly can whip Sharkey any time they start, and I don't believe they would draw well, but either Wilde or Herman with my boy would pack 'em in," concludes George.

HEARD THE DRUM

Former Bantam Champ Now Salvation Army Man

BOSTON, May 11.—Truly "a man may be down, but he's never out." In the opinion of Dominick Sisto, Gaultier, professionally known as "Young Sisto" and once the leading bantamweight of Rhode Island rings. Now he's a Salvation Army soldier and is mightily active in the effort of Providence to reach its quota during the appeal, May 10 to 20.

Gaultier has been a fighter all his life. His ring career began when he was only 15 and lasted for many years, until time forced him from the arena. Age barred him from active fighting in the past, but he was a member of a Massachusetts regiment of home volunteers and an employe in the Springfield arsenal.

After the war was over, penniless, discouraged, desperate, he was about ready to give up when he heard the sound of a drum. It meant to him what the going at the end of a round of punishment and meant in the present fighting days—restoration, advice and encouragement, for it was a Salvation Army drum.

U. S. SEIZURE OF ISLAND

Member of House of Commons Asks if Great Britain Will Protest

LONDON, May 11.—[Ma.] Christopher Lowther, coalition unionist, asked in the house of commons yesterday whether the government's attention had been called to the report that the United States had seized the island of Taboga, which is the property of Panama, for the purpose of erecting fortifications, and whether, in view of Great Britain's desire to protect the rights of small nationalities, a protest would be made to the United States, and, further, whether the matter could be referred to the League of Nations.

Cecil Harmsworth, undersecretary of foreign affairs, in replying described the proposal of the United States in 1918 to erect defenses for the purpose of protecting the entrance to the canal, and America's latest decision to postpone action. Mr. Harmsworth added that it did not appear to be a matter in which the British government was called upon to intervene.

Mr. Lowther asked why it was Great Britain objected to the French occupying Frankfurt, and did not protest when the United States occupied an island belonging to a small nationality.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader, replied that there was no analogy.

"As regards Germany," he said, "we acted together, and our objection was to any of the allies acting separately."

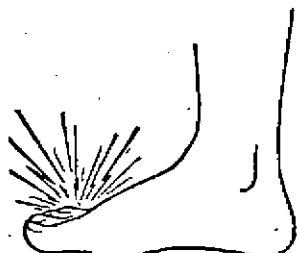

LOWELL GUILD

The nurses of the Lowell Guild made a total of 537 visits during the month of April, according to a report made by the superintendent of nurses, Mrs. Kohlman, at the regular monthly meeting of the organization at the guild house in Dutton street yesterday.

Weak blood, nervous dyspepsia helped by

RED PILLS

for Pale and Weak Women

MRS. J. DUGAL

RED PILLS have proven a great boon to me in helping me to attend properly to my household duties, as I did not have a very strong constitution and my blood was in a poor condition. I was also a victim of nervous dyspepsia, of which I was relieved in very little time. I find that the properties of RED PILLS are simply marvellous, and have decided that they will be the first remedy I will try whenever I feel myself getting run-down.

MRS. J. DUGAL,

Manchester East, N. H.

RED PILLS are for women only.

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

NEIGHBORHOOD STORE IN FLAMES

Fire, believed to have been set by rats and matches caused damage to the extent of about $1000 to the store of Mrs. Elizabeth Gaffney at 145 Sixth street last evening. The fire was discovered at about 9.30 o'clock and an alarm was sent in, but when the firemen reached the house the blaze was pretty well under way and was making rapid progress. Several lines of hose were laid but all efforts on the part of the firefighters to save the contents of the store proved unavailing.

It is not known just how the fire started, but the owner believes it was caused by rats and matches, for shortly before she closed the place one of her employees heard a crackling noise inside the wall, but at that time they paid no attention to it. The damage is covered by insurance.

BUSINESS GIRLS' CLUB

Stating that the club was organized to develop girls physically, spiritually, mentally and socially, Miss Alice M. Theobald, president of the Business Women's club of Boston, addressed the Lowell Business Girls' club at the Y. W. C. A. last night. The important business of the meeting included the acceptance of a constitution and by-laws. Miss Florence Caldwell, president, acted as moderator for the meeting. An entertainment included solos by Ned Garland and Mrs. Marion Sibley of Allston. The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

SCRAMBLE SQUIRREL COMES HOME

The twins peeping from above, saw Scramble Squirrel start to climb the maple tree where he lived, his house being about half way up in a deep, roomy hole.

They could see Mrs. Squirrel, too, inside, busily getting lunch, for she was expecting Scramble home that day from Scrub-Up Land. She had put out all the best tidies, and had made excellent dessert. It was cooling now in the kitchen—Nancy and Nick could smell it.

Well, Scramble started up the tree but he hadn't gone very far, when he lost his balance and fell down. He tried again, this time getting up a little further; but try as he would, and didn't pop in and say "Boo" and surprise his wife.

She was just putting some acorn muffins onto the table when in he jumped. "Boo!" said Scramble, forgetting for the minute that he had Ben Bunny's ears on top of his head, and no tail at all!

Mrs. Squirrel gave a shriek and promptly fainted, the muffins spilling everywhere. No wonder! It was the first time in her life she had heard of a rabbit climbing a tree!

Scramble Hears a Noise

Nancy and Nick stayed in the woodpecker's hole in the old maple. Their Green Shoes had made them very tiny clutch as he could, down he went again!

A worried look came over his face, and he mopped his brow with his little red handkerchief. "My!" he gasped. "I do need my tail! I wish I hadn't traded my tail to Ben Bunny for his ears. These long ears of his on top of my head keep pulling me over, and no tail on the back of me makes me feel top-heavy."

"But it's too late now to feel sorry. I can't get back and tell Rubadub, the fairyman, that I don't like the bargain I made! I'll try once again." This time he succeeded and got almost home, for he had decided that he would sub-

so they were quite comfortable. Besides, they'd promised Rubadub, the fairyman, to find out if Scramble Squirrel was happy after he had exchanged his tail for Ben Bunny's long ears.

Scramble wasn't saying whether he was happy or not, but his wife made a dreadful fuss. "I get a headache every time I look at you," she complained. "Whenever you come home with the marketing, I think you're a rabbit climbing the tree, and all the birds think so, too. They chatter all day about it!"

Mr. Squirrel smiled a wise smile. "Never mind," he nodded slowly. "It will come out all right. I'm learning to climb nicely without my tail, besides when I wish to hide anywhere I don't have to be forever wondering if part of my bushy tail is sticking out somewhere to give me away. Also, these ears are great for hearing with! I can hear Snoopy Skunk a mile away."

Just after that Scramble went off for some cress for Mrs. Squirrel to put into the soup. Nick and Nancy followed, for they wished to find out all they could to tell Rubadub when they returned to Scrub-Up Land.

Suddenly, up went Scramble's ears! (Bunny's ears really!) A faint rustling had come from behind the thorny bush near him. Ah! An enemy, discovered just in time! So Scramble squeezed hurriedly into a hole in an old stump.

"Am I all in," he wondered, "so I can't be seen? My, what a good thing I haven't a tail any more!" And he tucked in every stray hair and lay still as a mouse.

Nancy and Nick noticed something however, and they wanted dreadfully to tell him. I'll tell you tomorrow what it was.

MOVIE CENSORSHIP BILL PASSES HOUSE

BOSTON, May 11.—The bill to provide for the censoring of motion picture films by the department of public safety was passed to be engrossed by a voice vote in the Massachusetts house of representatives. A motion that it be referred to the next general court was rejected by a roll-call vote of 119 to 94. Mr. Sawyer of Ware sought to have the bill amended by striking out the clause which covers films which "incite to crime." His amendment was rejected, 74 to 41.

The senate bill for an additional clerk for the Suffolk county superior court for criminal business was debated at length and finally rejected. The house refused to order it to a third reading by a roll-call vote of 114 to 82.

After a sharp debate the house passed to be engrossed the bill to authorize Middlesex county to acquire land and property for a district court in Malden.

The ways and means committee reported favorably on the bill to increase the salary of the supervisor of administration from $5000 to $6000. The committee amended the bill to make the salary of the deputy supervisor $4500.

The committee on state house and libraries reported a bill to provide that there shall always be maintained an adequate passageway for foot passengers from north to south through the east wing of the state house, to be kept open during such hours as shall be determined by the superintendent of buildings.

REED, BRYAN AND JOHNSON COMMENT ON PRES. WILSON'S APPEAL

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson's call to the democratic party to carry the treaty ratification issue into the campaign drew expressions yesterday from two members of his own party, William J. Bryan and Senator Reed of Missouri, and also from Senator Johnson of California, leader of the republican irreconcilable group in the senate treaty battle.

Senator Reed declared that such a platform would mean for the democrats the loss of every state north of the Mason and Dixon line and the breaking of the "Solid South."

"The president's demand that the treaty shall be accepted exactly as he brought it from Versailles is the finest scheme premeditated political suicide yet devised," he added.

Mr. Bryan, at his home in Florida, reaffirmed his declaration for immediate ratification by joint action of republican and democratic treaty friends, "in order to take the issue out of the campaign."

Senator Johnson said: "The president has consistently maintained his position and I can respect an adversary of that sort. Those for whom I have no respect are the men who were with the president when they thought his position was popular and who now, with the varying popular wind, embrace the so-called Lodge reservations, which they denounced for so long a time."

Opening Guns Boom Forth

Continued

Inc. sounded the keynote of Salvation Army work the world over, when he said: "We officers of the army do not want the money for ourselves, we are practically pledged to poverty, but give it to us that we may help others."

Col. Jenkins, editor-in-chief of Salvation Army publications and a national officer of the organization proved to be an intensely interesting man and speaker. He swung the door wide open, the door of opportunity—and impressed his auditors with an earnest appeal for co-operative effort. He was introduced by His Honor, Mayor Perry D. Thompson.

The actual business meeting followed a supper served by the restaurant department of the Community club. Executive Chairman D. L. Page presided, although he turned over much of the routine duties to Vice Chairman James B. Casey, who called upon the team leaders for reports as to the scope of their individual organizations.

Captains were asked to give what- ever reports they had and while a few reported, the majority saved their subscriptions until the first official report meeting, scheduled for Wednesday noon at 12.30 o'clock.

One of the Salvation Army teams, Mrs. Klepsiz, chairman, reported $209; Team 6, Capt. William Leggat, 363; Police team, Capt. Redmond Welch, $28, including $75 in $2 subscriptions from local Chinese merchants; Fire Department team, Capt. Edward F. Saunders, $37.75; Knights of Pythias team, $2.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS TELLS HOW SHE GOT WELL

Miss G. J. Baird, of 30 Glenville ave., Allston, Mass., writes: "I have been sick almost two years, had four doctors with little or no relief. I was growing thin every day, went from 138 to 111. I was so discouraged I didn't know what to do. One night, about three weeks ago, I picked up a paper and saw your Dr. True's Elixir. Family Laxative and Worm Expeller advertised. I made up my mind I had worms and the next day bought a small bottle of Dr. True's Elixir. I was surprised at the result, stomach worms came out, I felt better, so much so, that I looked as though I was just the skin of worms. The day before I took Dr. True's Elixir I thought I should go wild with the crawling in my stomach. I feel like a new person, all my friends say I look so much better. I wouldn't have believed anyone could feel so much better in such a short time. I can't give your medicine praise enough."

Signs of worms: Offensive breath, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, deranged stomach, occasional griping and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. Dr. True's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, is sold by ALL DEALERS.—Ad.

Thompson as a man 37 years in Salvation Army service, expressed his happiness at being present, and in part spoke as follows:

"Thirty-seven years ago, when I entered Salvation Army work, I never dreamed that such a day would dawn. We Salvation Army folks never enjoyed the sort of popularity accorded us today. We have been projected into world prominence, and it is a new sensation. Not that we never had popularity in the past, but it has been of a different brand."

"The Salvation Army was founded 55 years ago by William Booth because of a great love for the lost—lost socially and religiously—and that step taken by General Booth contained the germ of the movement today. The Salvation Army still is pushing on because of a great love for the lost. Without this we could not exist."

"For a long time the Salvation Army walked on the ragged edge of absolute poverty and lived a hand-to-mouth existence. Every one of our army officers is practically pledged to a life of poverty, and I say this after careful thought. If you will pardon a personal illustration, once every week I sign a pay voucher, across the face of which is stamped $30.50, my pay per week, and I have been in the work heart and soul for 37 years. I venture to say that there is none among you who will say this is a princely salary for an editor-in-chief of all Salvation Army publications and a member of the national board."

"But my case is illustrative of all the officers of the army. They do not seek to become rich; we do not want money for ourselves, but to carry on work for others. I may safely say that in past years at least 40 per cent of the officers' time has been given over to the matter of getting the necessary money to pay such expenses as heat, light and rent. The worker always comes last and oftentimes, when there has been none left, he has gone without."

"A year ago the status of the army seemed to become revolutionized. I prosper."

think it was because we went west to France—the place of greatest need—and where we always have been found and did just the same kind of work we always had done. Men in the battle areas were very kindly toward us and seemed to appreciate our feeble attempts to serve them. They showed us with unsought-for praise and wrote home the story of our work, and it seemed to change public opinion at home. People seemed to recognize the importance and need of our work as never before. Last year the people of this country decided to foot the bill of the army and gave us 14½ millions of dollars. This money went toward the liquidation of debts that had hung to our neck like millstones; it allowed us to purchase new equipment and erect suitable buildings in which to carry on the work."

"This work must not stop or slow up, and I know that you men and women here assembled will see to it that Lowell's part of the service is maintained and allowed to grow and prosper."

A most interesting and unique method of acknowledging faithful service has just been put into operation by the J. C. Ayer Company. As stated in these columns a few days since, this company has presented a life-insurance policy, issued by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, to each person who has been in the employ of the company for 25 years and over. There are twenty such persons, ranging in time of service from 25 to 40 years. A large number are now on the "waiting list," so that each year additional policies will be given.

A healthy-looking lot of people, we say, due, no doubt to the generous use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla each spring; together with a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral now and then, every time they catch a cold or hear of one coming around their way!

Recently these persons came together and formed the "Quarter-of-a-Century Club," the object being to look after each other's interests in every way possible, and thus further promote the feeling of good-will and fraternal fellowship which at present prevails among all the employees of the company.

The Club is to meet at least once a year, on the birthday of Dr. J. C. Ayer, which is the fifth of May, have an annual dinner or excursion, admit new members, and have a photograph taken.

We have here the first photograph of members of the Club.

A high compliment was paid to the local representatives of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, Messrs. Nicholas G. Norcross and Robert F. Marden, in being chosen to write this insurance, the order coming to them unsolicited, but the sterling strength of the Equitable and the standing of its local representatives give ample assurance in so wise a selection.

On Saturday, May 8, 1920, The "Quarter-of-a-Century" Club of the J. C. Ayer Company enjoyed another annual outing. All the members of the Club were present at this outing, and they certainly illustrated their enthusiasm when dinner time came at one of the leading hotels of Boston. Later they beat a hasty retreat to a matinee, where they all hugely enjoyed a mirth-provoking show.

It is nothing new these days to hear of employees having their lives insured; but it was reserved for the J. C. Ayer Company to be the "first" one to enter such a field. The Equitable Life Insurance Company appreciated this and published in their literature, sent to all parts of the world, engravings of the first photograph of the Club as given above, making suitable comments thereon. If the J. C. Ayer Company ever comes out "second" in anything, you may rest assured there is a world-wide catastrophe!

Member of the Associated Press

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

The way of the transgressor ought to be a little livelier, if not harder, in Lowell, with those new motorcycle cops on the job.

It begins to look as though the most serious defect in the American navy at the beginning of the war was the presence therein of an admiral named Sims.

As the warfare between the leaders in the republican party and the managers and sub-managers of the different candidates becomes more bitter, the outlook becomes brighter for a dark horse from Massachusetts.

Supt. Welch will be backed up by public sentiment in every step he takes to enforce the automobile laws both as to parking and overspeeding. The motorcycle officers can render valuable assistance in following up the autoists who are found overspeeding and they may be seen almost any day on our main thoroughfares.

People living in the vicinity of Aiken and Hall streets are attempting to have the work of widening the corner at that point carried on a little more swiftly. The swiftness must needs be somewhat speedy now that the auto season has fully arrived unless more names are to be added to the total of those who have already been involved in fatal accidents there.

VILLA SUBSIDIES

The news that Villa has thrown down his arms and submitted to the revolution led by General Obregon, will be appreciated by those who realize what a treacherous and persistent disturber he has been. With President Carranza in flight, it appears that Mexico is to pass under the control of another military dictator. Alas for Mexico.

McCALL'S CASE

No man can question the fitness of former Governor McCall for membership on the tariff commission to which he has been appointed by President Wilson. But the republican senators are opposed to him for two reasons, first because he is the choice of President Wilson and second because he did not throw off his coat to re-elect Senator Weeks who prevented McCall from becoming a candidate for the senate.

Politics rules the republican senate and hence old scores are to be settled through factional strife. The question arises whether ex-Senator Weeks can still sway the republican senate to its own undoing. If the senate refuses to confirm the appointment of McCall, perhaps the next appointee would be more objectionable.

RADICAL DEMANDS

It is learned from Lawrence mill operatives that the new textile union with a long name does not represent the masses of the mill workers who are in a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The demand for 50 per cent increase and a 44-hour week, the mills claim, is too radical to be considered. The leaders behind this demand are the same who conducted the last textile strike in Lawrence. It is unfortunate that people at a distance, and even some at home, are misled by the name of the union, "The Amalgamated Textile Workers of America," into believing that it is a combination of the legitimate textile unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor which it is not. All the regular textile unions are under level headed leaders.

LODGE'S KEYNOTE

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, we are told, is to deliver a keynote address at the republican national convention. It should be a job well done. Mr. Lodge has been sounding keynotes for his party for the better part of two generations. There is only one fault to be found with his performances—they all sound very much alike.

We can imagine about what the senator will say. He will, in the old familiar phraseology, "point with pride" to whatever, after diligent search, he can find in the records of his party, that he thinks he can make people believe are worth being proud of. He will condemn as usual the performances of the opposition.

This is what keynote speeches of the Lodge variety are for. There will be nothing new, and we doubt if an anxious country will pay much attention to his statements. The

G. O. P. has not changed the color of its skin, and the main purpose of its campaign, as it has been for years, will be to land in control of the nation, the little group of self-interest promoters that has controlled the party for years.

We would suggest to Mr. Lodge that he might vary the character of his performance by referring to the fact that since the last election the country has participated victoriously in the greatest war in history. He might mention that we equipped and sent across the ocean two million men to make complete the overthrow of Prussianism. He might refer to the fact that in connection with this war there have been no embalmers of beef scandals, no round-robin protests from generals against the encampment of soldiers in places where they were dying from disease by thousands as a consequence of unhealthful conditions.

No nation since the dawn of history, has ever made a cleaner, nobler record in connection with a great war, and Mr. Lodge might at least allow one of his keynotes to wheeze a little on this subject and admit, even if it leaves a bad taste in his mouth afterwards, that all of the multifarious details connected with the participation of America in the great conflict were under the direction of a democratic administration.

PARKS! MORE PARKS!

It is the business of the park department to push for the acquisition of new parks whenever and wherever it can do so with any hope of success.

It is a well known fact that our city government has followed a most penurious policy with reference to public parks for some years past. But for the liberality and public spirit of Freeman B. Shedd and the Rogers sisters, we might have been without two of our most valuable public parks. If the city found it difficult to provide the means of developing these excellent public parks, it is hard to assume that it would voluntarily have set apart sufficient funds to purchase them. Now that we have them we must develop them as opportunity affords and we must also acquire new parks whenever practicable at convenient locations. The park department does well, therefore, to utilize Washington park temporarily if need be or until such time as public sentiment can be educated to the point of demanding its purchase. The purchase of the First street oval is also desirable, and there are other vacant areas in the thickly settled parts of the city that should be secured for public park purposes.

As we are a growing city it is good policy to pre-empt every public breathing place possible to be held against the time when conditions of congestion will be even worse than they are today.

The youth of our city want ball parks and athletic fields—there is one needed in Belvidere, one in Centralville, one in the Highlands and one also in the South end if the Fair grounds be not available for that purpose.

It would be well for the park department to designate vacant lots that are suitable for park purposes and urge their purchase as soon as the city can afford the outlay. The time will come when this city, like others that crowd buildings together over large areas without a breathing place, will be obliged to make room for parks in the midst of the most thickly settled districts where they would be veritable life savers.

Let nobody murmur at the expenditure of money for public parks. But for our parks, people who were used to country life and who now work in the factories would pine for a look upon the face of Nature—for the green fields, the spreading trees, the shrubs and the flowers such as charmed them in youth, mayhap under sunny skies on far distant shores. The park department, therefore, is rendering an important service to the city and its 110,000 people in adding whenever possible to the area, the beauty and convenience of our public park system.

AN ERA OF "PROBES"

The newspaper headline writers have had to invent a new, or rather readapt and extend the meaning of an old word. To describe a multitude of surveys, investigations and inquiries into all sorts of subjects they have chosen the monosyllable

"probe" concisely and adequately to describe them all.

Within the last few years the people of the United States have literally been overwhelmed by the "probes" that have been let loose upon them. It is difficult to think of a subject connected with individuals or the public welfare that has not been investigated by some body or other.

Here in Lowell we are shortly to have a probe into the fire hazards of the Highlands section. This may be a very good probe. It may result in securing information that will be worth at least what it costs to obtain it. If it does so, it will differ greatly from other probes which have mostly given a greater or less number of comfortable jobs and finally resulted in piling up vast collections of costly printed reports.

The national government has led in this matter of investigating. It has "probed" about everything from the cost of building aircraft and the price of pork products to the activities of naval vice squads.

The reports of probes made by the federal trade commission alone would fill a comfortably large library. Some of these have been of sensational import and attracted widespread attention and have been the cause of much discussion when printed. Some of them have set forth in very plain language the location of the colored gentleman in the woodpile of the high cost of living. Little else than talk has come from them.

The commonwealth of Massachusetts has not been far behind the national government in its craze for investigations. Its probes have a slight advantage over those conducted under federal direction. The fish probe resulted in the reorganization of the fish-handling business, but that the people as a whole have obtained a real advantage from this rearrangement is yet to be demonstrated. Of most of the other inquiries which have had public attention focused upon them for a day there is scarcely even a memory.

At the real base of this custom of making surveys and investigations is undoubtedly the habit which has grown constantly among our statesmen, near-statesmen, and common or garden variety of politicians, that of "passing the buck."

If they come upon a problem that calls for the exercise of real brains for its solving, or that is of uncertain issue, politically, what could be more convenient than to pass the whole matter on to a commission to study it. While the studying is being done, perhaps the problem will solve itself, or may be forgotten. At any rate the statesman, in embryo or otherwise, will be able to inform his constituents that he has done his best to straighten out the matter by having it referred to a commission for investigation.

There is need of a fuller realization on the part of all citizens that ours is a representative government. That we elect our officials to carry on the business of different parts of that government and that it is up to them in larger measure to solve the problems, straighten out the tangles and give us as good and as efficient a government as is possible without relying to such a great extent on the work of investigators to tell them what they should or should not do.

The need is not for more probes, but for study and digestion of the facts that have been revealed by the investigations already made. We are not in crying need of changes, but of growth founded upon solid well-established principles that have been time-tested. We do not need more laws, enacted perchance as the result of more probes, but a more honest and efficient enforcement of the laws that already exist.

Lady Canada

You have to hand it to that bunch of mother earth located north of the United States boundary line. It certainly has the riches. Everybody knows of its tens of millions of acres of wheat land—on which some of the best wheat in the world is produced. And they know of its enormous forests; but perhaps not so many know of the tremendous woods country far up in the frozen north where the timber stretches in an unbroken mass from Alaska to Hudson Bay. Then there's that herd of caribou that is said to number 25 millions, offering a future solution of some meat situation. And the great possibilities of cheap electric power. And the fisheries and fur and spruce and gold. But here comes your Lady Canada pretty nearly every year with some newly discovered natural resource of great wealth. A couple of years ago or so it was coal oil and gas and this year's prospects have greatly enlarged the possibilities of the petroleum resources. A year ago new coal fields were discovered. The other day, two well known prospectors of Toronto started out for Hudson's bay to stake claims to some iron ore discoveries they made last fall on a big island in the bay. They assert that on the surface, right in sight, are four million tons of iron ore, enough to supply Canada for a century. That's going to be a great nation to the north before long.

It is worth while taking a turn up Merrimack street as far as city hall to have a look at the brilliant display of tulips around the base of the building's walls.

During the period from April 25 to May 6 inclusive the report of births given out by the city clerk shows that out of the 32 births 19 were boys and 13 girls. The same report also shows that out of the 32 families with births, 19 are of foreign origin.

FOUND DEAD

Man Was Attired in Women's Clothes

BOSTON, May 11.—Norman Farquar of the Winthrop Arms, Winthrop, a dye soap manufacturer in Jamaica Plain, engaged a room at Young's hotel yesterday morning, and shortly before noon was found dead in bed with his body resting partly on the floor. An examination of the body a little later disclosed the fact that he was clothed partly in women's underwear, and wore women's long stockings held in place just above the knee by men's garters. On a chair close by the bed was some men's underwear and also a small bag containing some women's wearing apparel. The body was not fully clothed.

The discovery of the body was made by a chambermaid, who, while passing along the corridor, noticed the peculiar position of the guest. Her suspicions were aroused and the hotel management summoned Dr. Elmer L. N. Brine, who made a superficial examination of the man, whom he pronounced dead. The police were then notified and the medical examiner called into the case. There was no indication of suicide by poison or in any other way and no sign of violence on the body.

The hotel people said that when Farquar appeared at the hotel desk to register he carried a small suitcase and seemed to be in good spirits. He went directly to his room and is not known to have spoken to anyone.

He was identified by papers in his pockets and his identity was substantiated by two employees of the Winthrop hotel, who came to this city to make sure. He was about 50 years old.

Those who knew him at the Winthrop Arms, where he had made his home for the past three years, scouted the idea that Farquar ended his life. Neither could they account for his having on women's apparel. One guest said that Farquar often wore long Scotch golf stockings. People at the hotel thought he was a bachelor, but were of the opinion that he has a son and a divorced wife living somewhere in New York City.

Farquar slept Sunday night in his apartment at Winthrop and was apparently in good health, although some said that he had long been complaining of stomach trouble. At the hotel he was well liked and highly spoken of. He is believed to have come here from New York, where he was connected with a concern manufacturing soap powder which removed to Boston.

worked well elsewhere, at the point.

The judge read to the jury a statement from the defense admitting that the witness had written the railroad on September 11, 1917, calling attention to conditions of traffic at the crossing.

H. F. Prouty, town treasurer and tax collector of Littleton and formerly clerk of the board of selectmen, identified a letter written August 27, 1917, by General Manager B. R. Pollock of the Boston and Maine to the selectman in which it stated that the road proposed to improve conditions at the crossing by installing an automatic flagman and trim trees in the vicinity.

Judge Fasilick instructed the jury regarding the value of the letters as evidence in the case, in view of the fact as stated, that no effort was to be made by the plaintiff to prove that the driver of the car had any knowledge of the promises of the railroad officials to make the crossing more safe. The defense having admitted that the selectman had written to the officials of the road complaining regarding traffic conditions at the crossing, the court stated that the testimony of the witness would be excluded, as was that of the previous witness on similar grounds.

James S. Allen, Jr., of Winchester, clerk of U. S. district court in Boston, was next called and testified that he was a passenger on the train on the Fitchburg road, that was involved in the fatal accident.

He said that the train, when it reached the crossing, stopped with a sudden jolt, that, however, was not violent enough to throw him from his seat. There were several short blasts of the whistle, he said.

He left the train, he said, and walked down the track toward what he found to be a burning auto, located partly on the outward-bound track, facing inward.

The witness testified to finding the dead body of a woman near the auto, and a little farther down the track toward Ayer, the body of a man.

"The night was dark and cloudy," the witness stated, "and the train was running rather faster than usual, as it was down-grade and I understood was trying to make up time. The train was a heavy one."

The witness told of helping dispose of the ladies and said that he had talked with Donald Fletcher, driver of the car.

In answer to a question by Mr. Donahue, the witness told of a number of autos halted at the crossing by the accident.

Mr. Donahue said that the defense admitted that there was no flagman's shanty at the crossing on the night of the accident.

Dr. James P. Christy of Littleton was called and testified regarding being called to the scene of the accident and of having given first aid to the survivors.

He said he lived about 3 1/2 miles from the crossing and reached the place about 9:45 p. m. He told of finding the two dead bodies.

He was questioned by Mr. Donahue regarding the number of autos that were assembled at the crossing when he reached the place and said that the line extended an eighth of a mile toward Ayer and a considerable distance also toward Littleton.

The witness said that he had frequently used the crossing both in the day and night time. He said that traffic over the road increased, especially at night, after the arrival of troops. He asserted that the night of the accident was very dark.

The witness said that in many trips over the crossing he had heard the warning bell ringing at various distances from the railroad, sometimes louder than others.

Depositions from Boston & Maine officials were admitted in evidence and read by Mr. Donahue and Mr. Wier. They related to conditions at the crossing on the night of the accident. In a deposition by the general manager it was stated that the train that caused the accident was running at the rate of 45 miles an hour at a distance of 1000 feet from the crossing.

The engineer saw what he thought were two stationary automobiles at the crossing, and that as one of them appeared to start to cross the track he sounded the whistle of the locomotive several times and applied the airbrakes. The whistle was blown first when the train was about 50 rods from the crossing, and the bell was rung continuously from that point until after the accident, the deposition stated.

George Alvin Cook, a plumber and steam-fitter, was called to the stand and testified that he lived about one and one-third mile from the crossing. He said that on a Sunday in last September he had counted the number of autos passing his house in the direction of the crossing for an hour and a half. In that time, he said, the machines went past at the rate of nine a minute.

He told of an experience with the signal bell at the crossing and said that he had approached it last August to within 50 feet before he heard the bell ring, and had not been able to stop his car until within 25 feet of the crossing with the train just ahead of him passing over it. He said there was a progressive increase in traffic at the rate of five to one after June, 1917.

Frank G. Hale, a state police officer stationed at Ayer, testified to having been called to the scene of the accident and of having taken part in disposing of the bodies of the dead.

Water Rates Increased

The mayor then read an ordinance introduced by Commissioner Salmon providing for a 50 per cent. increase in water rates beginning June 1. In detail, it was as follows:

Ordinance, regulating water rates for the consumption of water in the city of Lowell.

Be it ordained by the municipal council of the city of Lowell, as follows:

Section 1. That on and after the first day of June, 1920, there shall be charged as rates for the consumption of water in the city of Lowell, sold by the water works department of said city, the prices hereinafter set forth:

Section 2. All metered service shall be at the rate of twenty-one cents (21c) per hundred cubic feet of water as recorded on the meters in each building served with water by said department in which a meter is installed. Nevertheless, on such premises where meters record a yearly consumption of less than 5000 cubic feet of water there shall be charged a minimum amount of $10.50 per annum, per meter.

Section 3. The rate charged to takers of water in buildings served with water by said department in which no meter is installed shall be not less than twelve dollars ($12) per annum for each and every service connection with the mains of said department. In buildings in which there are more than two fixtures there shall be charged for service in such buildings for each and every sink or wash basin or other basin into which water is deposited by means of a faucet or hose, seven dollars ($7) per annum; for each and every water closet installed therein five dollars ($5) per annum; for each and every bath tub installed therein a sum of four dollars ($4) per annum.

Section 4. There shall be allowed for prompt payment of all water bills within such time as the commissioner of water works and fire protection shall determine, but in no case more than thirty (30) days from the date of the rendition of the bill, a discount of five per cent. (5 per cent.)

Section 5. No person, firm, association or corporation shall receive from the water works department of the city of Lowell water or water service except at the rates and charges herein set forth.

Section 6. Any and all ordinances and parts of ordinances heretofore or hereinafter enacted herewith are hereby repealed.

Following the first reading of the ordinance the mayor read a communication from W. K. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, in which it was stated that that organization approved and recommended the increase provided for in Commissioner Salmon's ordinance.

Commissioner Marchand asked Commissioner Salmon how much the department would gain if it omitted the five per cent. discount provided in the ordinance for prompt payment of bills.

Mr. Salmon thought it would amount to approximately $15,000.

Commissioner Marchand: "Then it seems to me that we should have a lower rate and do away with the discount. Only those people who happen to have money on hand in time to pay the bill before the expiration of 30 days get the benefit of the discount."

Commissioner Salmon said that the discount provision was not intended to embarrass people, but rather to insure prompt payment of bills. Other corporations use this method, he said. Otherwise, the department would be burdened with a heavy expense in attempting to collect its bills.

Mayor Thompson expressed the opinion that the discount was the greatest and cheapest collection agency that the city could employ. He said that while the department might save $15,000 by doing away with the discount, it would probably lose that much in the course of a year trying to collect its bills by other methods.

Commissioner Murphy said that he was in sympathy with the ordinance as proposed by Commissioner Salmon but that he hoped local landlords wouldn't take advantage of its passage by increasing rents.

The ordinance was then read again following.

Commissioner Salmon said that the discount provision was not intended to embarrass people, but rather to insure prompt payment of bills. Other corporations use this method, he said. Otherwise, the department would be burdened with a heavy expense in attempting to collect its bills.

Mayor Thompson expressed the opinion that the discount was the greatest and cheapest collection agency that the city could employ. He said that while the department might save $15,000 by doing away with the discount, it would probably lose that much in the course of a year trying to collect its bills by other methods.

Commissioner Murphy said that he was in sympathy with the ordinance as proposed by Commissioner Salmon but that he hoped local landlords wouldn't take advantage of its passage by increasing rents.

The ordinance was then read again following.

Commissioner Salmon how much the department would gain if it omitted the five per cent. discount provided in the ordinance for prompt payment of bills.

Mr. Salmon thought it would amount to approximately $15,000.

Commissioner Marchand: "Then it seems to me that we should have a lower rate and do away with the discount. Only those people who happen to have money on hand in time to pay the bill before the expiration of 30 days get the benefit of the discount."

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 11.—Stocks were quiet and irregular at the opening today, denoting further confusion of speculative sentiment. Mexican Petroleum at a gain of 1/4, and United States Steel at a decline of 1/4, were the only issues to record more than fractional changes. Shipbuilding, rails and sugars were disposed to improve. Copper and textiles, aided with popular steels. The general list became reactionary within the first hour, however, when pressure against steels and oils became more insistent.

Aside from oils, which continued to be sustained by further advances of oil products, the market retained all its recent narrow and uncertain character. Developments in the industrial situation seemed to offer little inducement to the grain, and high grade rails fell 1/4 to 1/2 points on small offerings. Steels, equipments and motors again bore the brunt of the early selling but recovered slightly before noon. Copper and sugar registered substantial gains. Call money money was plentiful at 7 per cent, and foreign exchange strengthened. German marks rising to a level well over two cents.

Another reaction at mid-day forced popular issues under lower quotations. Steels, equipments, motors and oils were 2 to 4 points under yesterday's final prices. Call loans remained easy and foreign exchange continued to improve.

Shorts covered extensively later, especially in oils and equipments. The general list also rallied, although call money rose to 8 per cent. The closing was irregular.

AMERICANS IN BATTLE

Yankee Fliers Took Part in Air Fighting Which Resulted in Capture of Kiev

WARSAW, May 10. (By the Associated Press.)—Members of the Kosciuszko aerial squadron, under command of Major P. Cedric Pauntleroy of Chicago, took a prominent part in the air fighting which resulted in the capture of Kiev. The Americans made repeated raids against soviet forces dropped bombs along railroads, and flying low turned their machine guns upon the Bolshevik infantry.

SMITHS IN THE LEAD

Made Up 15 Regiments in American War Army

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Smiths made up 15 regiments in the American war army, Johnsons, 11; Browns, 8; Williams, Jones and Millers, 7 each. Records at the bureau of war risk insurance, where the names of 4,622,422 former service men are indexed, also show that the Andersons and Davises families were represented in sufficient number to compose more than five regiments each, and the Wilsons, Moores and Taylors four each.

SEN. WALSH SPEAKS

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Senator Walsh yesterday said "The president's ultimatum regarding what should be done with the treaty at the democratic convention will not change a single vote in the senate and the Knox peace resolution will undoubtedly pass with as much democratic support as was given the Lodge reservations."

Senator Walsh declined to predict what would be the attitude of the Massachusetts democratic delegation, on the president's utterance. He would make no comment except to say "My opinion regarding the league and the treaty is absolutely unchanged and I made my position on it clear when the measure was before the senate." As Senator Walsh was then bitterly opposed to the treaty except with the league reservations and strongly denounced the treaty in the form it came from the president, it is a pretty safe guess that the Massachusetts delegation at San Francisco will not support a candidate at the convention whose views of the treaty run along the same lines as the president's.

TO DISSOLVE FRENCH FEDERATION OF LABOR

PARIS, May 11.—The French cabinet today instructed the minister of justice to open proceedings against the general federation of labor with a view to the dissolution of the organization which has been supporting the strike of the French railway men by calling other strikes.

In spite of the appeal to the Electricians' union by the General Federation of Labor yesterday, electric supply throughout the city seemed not to be affected today. Subway trains, street cars and auto buses were run, volunteers taking the places of the few men who failed to report for work.

NEW BATTERY B

Smoker Tonight in Interest of Unit Recruiting

A smoker, open to those men who already signed up as members of Battery B of the 102d field artillery as well as to all others interested in the unit, will be held this evening at the state armory in Westford street. Invitations have been sent to former members of various military organizations and a large attendance is expected. New men wishing to join the outfit will be given an opportunity to do so this evening.

Recruiting for the new battery will continue all week and it is expected that physical examinations will begin in a few days. As soon as these examinations are over and 121 men have been certified eligible for battery duty, they will be mustered into the service and Capt. W. C. MacFarlane, battery commander, plans suitable formalities to mark the occasion.

Following is a list of the men who have become honorary members of the new outfit: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Allan C. Sargent of Graniteville, Jude C. Wadleigh, Andrew F. Roach, Representative Henry A. Ahlin, Jr., Humphrey O'Sullivan, Joseph A. Legare, James O'Sullivan, Michael J. Sharkey, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson, Superintendent Gerald Cahill of the U. S. Cartridge Co., Hon. Erson B. Barlow, James E. Lyle, Daniel J. Cosgrove, Capt. Joseph P. Molloy, Capt. Royal P. White, William N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, and Henry McAlvin.

$500 MORE FOR NEAR EAST FUND

The Lowell fund for near east relief, of which Charles H. Clogston of the Mechanics savings bank is the treasurer, has been credited with $500 more, as a result of contributions sent to the state office in Boston by people who heard members of the "flying squadron" of the national committee speak in the city on Sunday and Thursday of last week. It is expected that further donations will be sent to the local treasurer by employees of the cotton mills who heard the same speakers at the Thursday noon shop meetings.

This pathetic little note has been given out by the state committee, as one of several received with special contributions this week:

"The enclosed $5 is in part a sum of money saved in five cent pieces by a little boy more than 10 years ago. His mother kept the little hoard with a lock of his hair when the little fellow died, and the niece who is helping settle her affairs thought that the best way to use the money would be to help some little orphan in the near east."

In China, a man can obtain a haircut, a head shave, a face shave and also have his shoulders and back massaged, all for less than 5 cents.

ASKS AMERICANS TO VISIT MEXICO

Invited to Engage in Trade With Mexicans, by Agent Tamez

Assured Protection and Facilities for Full Success of Undertakings

NOGALES, Ariz., May 11.—Cordial invitation to foreign business men, especially Americans to come to Mexico and engage in trade and to Mexican expatriates to return to their native land, was extended today in a statement issued by Emiliano Tamez, commercial agent for the liberal constitutional party at Nogales. He said he was speaking for the revolutionary government.

"Foreign business men can come to Mexico with full confidence that in all sections controlled by the new Government they will enjoy all assurances, protection and facilities they may require for the full success of their undertakings," he said. "The rebellion initiated by the government of Sonora, in the legitimate defense of its sovereignty, offers to the Mexican nation a great example of virility and energy, which of necessity has brought an echo of sympathy and frank adhesion from most of the states of the republic."

"While it is true that this rebellion, in its inception and in its development, has of necessity had a military character, it is also true that it is essentially a civil movement, supported by the public opinion of the entire country, the object of which is the defense of principles and right threatened by President Carranza."

"I have the satisfaction of informing the republic as a fact of vital importance, that all the chiefs in the present movement are capable of giving all kinds of guarantees to foreigners and nationals alike and their desire is no other than to impart strict justice to all classes and political creeds."

CIVIL SUIT IN POLICE COURT

Civil suit was started this morning in police court, before Judge Enright in the case of Oliver J. David vs. Fred Morrisette and Pierre R. Landry, trustee. The plaintiff claims that on or about the 15th day of October, 1919, the defendant had in his possession money received from the plaintiff, to the amount of $200 and that the defendant owes him that sum, the money received by the defendant, for the use of the plaintiff. The defendant claims that at the time of the issuance of the plaintiff's writ upon him, he was the maker of a negotiable promissory note payable to Morrisette and which was dated July 28, 1919, for the sum of $645. The defendant also claims that he has paid on that note $231, thus leaving due $354, and that he did not have any other "goods, effects or credits in his hands or possession."

William Dean Howells, Novelist, Dead

NEW YORK, May 11.—William Dean Howells, the novelist, died here today. He returned a few weeks ago from Savannah, where he spent the winter. While in the south, he was stricken with influenza and never fully recovered from its effects.

Strike at Holyoke Spreads

HOLYOKE, May 11.—About 50 unskilled employees of independent paper mills today joined the strike of the so-called Unity of Workers, comprising the unskilled workers of the American Writing Paper Co., who quit yesterday to enforce demands for an increase of wages from 56 to 70 cents an hour. The strikers claim that the total number out is 650. The strike does not affect Eagle Lodge of paper makers, members of which are doing the work of the strikers so effectively, it is said, that thus far little inconvenience has been felt by the mills.

Coaching From Bench Prohibited

BOSTON, May 11.—Coaching from the players' bench is prohibited in the American league. President Ban Johnson in a formal order sent to all clubs in the league and received by the Red Sox today, announced that a player removed from the bench by an umpire hereafter is automatically suspended for three days.

Coaching from the bench, Johnson declares, "has been carried to an extreme by two clubs in the organization this spring, and has become a positive nuisance. The 'riding' and abuse of visiting players is unsportsmanlike and does not belong in baseball."

ZIMMERMAN JURY AT SCENE OF SHOOTING

SPRINGFIELD, May 11.—The jury in the trial of Miss Jennie Zimmerman, charged with the murder of her cousin, Dr. Henry Zimmerman, visited the scene of the shooting today. The shooting occurred in Perry street, where it is alleged, Miss Zimmerman approached her cousin while he was talking with two women friends and after a short conversation, drew a revolver and fired four shots.

On the jury's return, District Attorney Wright opened the case for the commonwealth, recounting the events at the time of the alleged murder and saying that he would try to prove that Miss Zimmerman took her cousin's life "with extreme atrocity and cruelty." He said that he would produce a confession by the defendant, made shortly after the tragedy, confirming the facts set forth by the prosecution. He said the state would seek to show that the defendant had made statements indicating that she intended to shoot Dr. Zimmerman.

The first witness was Miss Evelyn Feldman of Manchester, N. H., who testified that she with her sister and Dr. Zimmerman were riding in the young women's automobile the day of the shooting. They had stopped to allow Miss Feldman to visit a store. When she came out she saw Miss Zimmerman talking with the doctor. The shooting followed. She was standing so close to the doctor that she was slightly wounded in the finger.

Legion Men Make Plans for Memorial Day

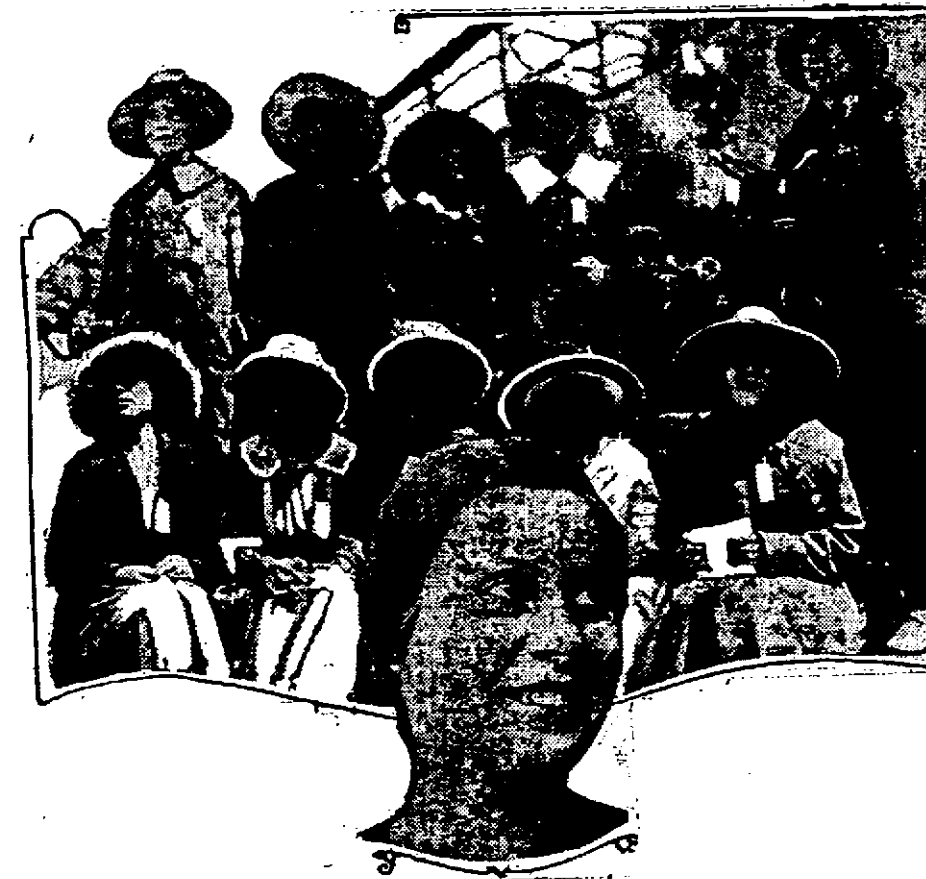

A meeting of the Billerica post of the American Legion was held last Thursday evening and one of the distinguishing features was the vote of the members to contribute $5 towards the fund for the decoration of the graves of their comrades in France. Other business included the appointment of a committee to confer with the G.A.R. in making arrangements for Legion members to turn out for parade on Memorial day. For the membership drive the men present agreed to bring in ex-service men at the next meeting. The Legion post of that town has received a beautiful map from John Jacob Rogers as a gift to the ex-service men.

The members voted to send delegates to the Legion convention to be held in Marlboro May 15, and to make special efforts that the drive for funds for their new clubhouse might be successful. They agreed to arrange for entertainments, dances and other social activities to raise the required money. Accordingly they elected the officers for the dancing party to be held May 25th in the town hall. Daniel McSweeney was elected general manager; Richard Condon, assistant general manager; Edward Barton, floor director; Joseph Fairbrother, chief aid; and other members of the Legion as aids.

There were in the United States in 1916 nearly 42,000,000 church members, of whom about 36,500,000 were 13 years of age and over.

SETTIN'

"GIRL OF TRAGEDY" AND ELEVEN RUSS WAR BRIDES ARRIVE IN U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO—The tragic life story of Lucy Stavenski (inset), a 17-year-old Polish girl, became known when she landed on U. S. soil. After her father was slain in battle and her mother had committed suicide from grief, she left Siberia with her lover, an American sergeant, on the transport Dix, in male attire. A quarrel with her sweetheart followed and he stole her clothes, leaving her naked. Clad in a blanket she was taken before the captain of the ship and later garments were made out of bed sheets.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Albert Shaw and Miss Pearl May Penton took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev. C. E. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church at his home, 224 Foster street. At the close of the ceremony, the couple left on a honeymoon trip and upon their return, they will make their home in this city.

Bordeleau—Bordeleau
Mr. Gedeon Alfred Bordeleau and Miss Marie Rosanna Bordeleau were married this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory at 5 o'clock by Rev. Antoine A. Amyot, O.M.I. The couple were attended by their respective fathers. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of relatives at 110 Ludlam street.

FUNERALS

PROVENCHER—The funeral of Norbert L. Provencher, a former resident of this city, who died April 19 at Balboa Heights, Panama, took place this morning from the rooms of Undertaker Joseph Albert in Aiken street. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Joseph's church at 8 o'clock by Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I. The choir under the direction of Teleshore Malo rendered the Gregorian chant. Miss Lena B. Camire presiding at the organ. At the offertory "O Meritum Passionis" was sung by E. J. Laroche. The bearers were three sons, a son-in-law and a nephew, Dr. N. O. Provencher, Fred Provencher, Charles Provencher and Albert Lafance. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I.

RED SOX PLAY INDIANS

BOSTON, May 11.—The Red Sox, opening a series with the Cleveland club today in which the American league leadership is at stake, will be without the pitching assistance of Waite Hoyt, the team's youthful star. Hoyt was taken to a hospital for treatment of a strain and physicians today told Manager Barrow that he would be kept in bed for four or five days. Because he is growing so rapidly, they said, Hoyt will not be at his best this season, and will be subject to strains. The player is 20 years of age.

TOO BUSY FOR GODFATHERING NOW!

MEXICO—One little Mexican baby would probably tell you, if it could talk, that President Carranza makes a mighty fine godfather. Minus his uniform and without the assistance of his horse or troops, he played the part to the child of one of his trusted adherents, Colonel Paulino Fuentes, general manager of the National railway. The chief executive of Mexico seemed to enjoy his "job," judging from the smile on his face. This picture was taken before the revolt occupied all of Carranza's time.

RARE BIRDS

An Echo of the Great War

This sturdy youngster was far too young to take part in the World War, but he certainly had the makings of a good soldier. His mother is Mrs. J. Rathjen, 355 Prospect Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., and she says that for over two years she has used Father John's Medicine in her family both for the youngster and the other members of the family.

with excellent results. Mrs. Rathjen says she "thinks there is nothing better," and a few of her friends to whom she has recommended the medicine have had the same experience. This pure, old-fashioned, family medicine is nourishing, wholesome and strengthening. It has superior food value and is rich in the very elements which make flesh and strength. It is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.—Adv.
